...I have given you My Words...

EDITORIALS

Predicted

Last month's Newsletter was a special edition where we brought you the Messages given by Jesus and Mary from various places all over the world. They told us of what would happen to this earth if it did not change. They predicted the times that the evil one would enter the Church and when "all the civil governments would have one and the same plan, which will be to abolish and do away with every religious principle, to make way for materialism, atheism, spiritualism and vice of all kinds..." the Message of La salette

Be ready

We believe that these times are upon us now and that they are going to get worse. As Jesus said, "My children of this world, I tell you again to be dressed in travelling clothes, to be ready for what is to come. What used to be subtleties will soon now be blatant and you will be shocked. Do not fear for I have given you My Words and, if you listen to them, then they will see you through.

...the Work that you do for Me is urgent, do not be complacent but work tirelessly to bring more souls to Me. There is not time to sit around..." Wednesday 6 October 2004

And again, "...There is no light in this world; it is a dark place now. The world has entered a dark place and it has not known it. I give My Holy Spirit to all those who will believe on Pentecost Sunday; ...There is much more darkness to come..." Wednesday 13 April 2005

Fight for the Truth

We have decided to again publish a special edition Newsletter bringing you many of the Messages that Jesus has given, through the two Patricks, about these times. We have endeavoured to reveal many of the anti-God sentiments that are becoming the norm in Europe. We try simply to bring you the Truth and convey the beautiful Teachings in our Church to stimulate our need to fight for it and the Truth.

The Messages of Love

Jesus said in the Messages of Love that "...Soon too, the emerging nation of Europe shall flex her muscles. She has imprisoned countries within her by trickery and soon countries that have been loyal to Me will split with Me and My Church in them will be ruled by men..." Tuesday 22 October 2002 And again that "...Many things are about to happen in what is now called Europe. The influence of the evil one in this new country is greater than you could ever know. Things that will come will seem insignificant to begin with but, as with the Jews not so long ago, the true horrors will soon emerge..." Friday 2 July 2004

Your Freedom

Within this Newsletter, you will read how Christians are fast becoming the most persecuted people in Europe and this in the name of equality and rights for all. You will hopefully see this for the great lie that it is, for there are no rights for you if you believe in the One True God and what He says.

The Messages of Love

Holy Thursday 1 April 2010

My children, I Love you. The Love that I give is warm and tender, it is a Love borne on a Cross; a Love given freely and with much cost. This is the Love that today begins its journey to completion. I give you that Love today, My Angels carry it to you. In this Love, I give you hope: hope in the Salvation that I have already wrought. I give you the hope that you need to carry on through the dark nights of temptation and sin. I give it to you so that you will know that at the end of every dying to self that Love awaits for you, to welcome you and give you hope to go on. I Love you.

Monday 5 April 2010

Jesus:
Look to the Truth, My children, and see Me. Do not listen to the media of this world for they are liars and thieves and do not know Me. They who are in power are full of self and greed and make their decisions in order to please the media for it is they who really control all with their lies. It is they who stir the people with their lies and so control the outcome of all decisions. Trust in Me and do not believe these liars and thieves for they will pay the price for what they have sown. Their harvest shall be a bitter one. Trust in Me, children, and do not listen to them. My Love for you is not a human love but it is an Eternal Love that cannot be fully understood by mankind. I, your Jesus, Love you.

Patrick:
Thank You, Jesus, I love You.

Tuesday 20 April 2010

Jesus:
Look only to Love and see Me in all that you meet. Trust in Me, your God, and allow Me to Teach you in the Ways of Truth. I am your God and I am calling you through these Words to come back into the safety of My Fold. I am your God, children, look to Me as the days are changing; darkness is becoming the way of life and you do not realise it. You do not see what is happening. You have allowed the evil one to become so much a part of your lives. Come, trust in Me, and allow Me to show you the Truth. I Love you, My children. I, your Jesus, Love you.

Patrick:
Thank You, Jesus, I love You.

AN INVITATION TO LOVE JESUS NEWSLETTER
MESSAGES OF LOVE APRIL 2010 ISSUE 170

Jesus, The Truth And Europe

In July 2006, Jesus asked us to put a book together with all the Messages that He had given over the years about the times we are living in and the times to come. We begin this Newsletter with this Message.

All the confusion that you speak of Is the sorrows that I have spoken of

Patrick: Jesus, I love You. I give my life to You all over again. Can You please tell me about all the things that seem to be going on around us? From what I can see, everything seems to be out of sync. There is no normality in anything. Even believing in You has not remained the same. Everything about what I believe in has changed in the last few years. It is as if I am being forced to believe in a different type of God; a You that I have never known. It would seem that all the so-called religious experts have gone crazy in their thinking about You. It is not the changes that they made about You in Scripture; something more fundamental and deep seems to have penetrated into the faith; a deliberate confusion seems to have been placed into our hearts and it has spread like poison through our veins. People seem to be totally blind to You; they know about You and they believe in You but they ignore You; they simply do not seem to see You in the scheme of things. The last five years in the world seems to have become worse than anything that I can remember or have read about. There seems to be so many lies about You that one could lose one's faith in the confusion of it all. I do not know if others see it this way but I certainly do. I feel that I have fallen into a turbulent river that is rushing headlong over a cliff and there seems no way to stop it.

I see people believe in You to a point and then it stops there. Self is so prevalent that no one seems to have a fighting chance left. Could You explain it?

Jesus:

My servant, I Love you and I thank you for this question. If you look through all the Messages that I have given to you in explanation of the times to come then you will see the answers to the questions that you ask. I ask of you to place them in a book so that others can see too.¹

Love, My servant, is so cold now that it is icy. People see love only in a human form which is fickle. It does not have the same meaning as My Love but they try to make it mean that. They are confused by it because they have been led to believe that it will make them happy. You eat food and feel satisfied at the time but then it begins to move through the body on its processes and eventually ends up in the sewer. The happiness and contentment that it brought is gone and has to be looked for once again. This is a happiness that is temporary but many many believe that this is all there is. Love is grown so cold that were it not for the few that love Me, the world would be literally lawless. Read these Words from the Scripture that they try to change:

3 Now as He sat on the Mount of Olives, the Disciples came to Him privately, saying, "Tell us, when will these things be?

And what will be the sign of Your Coming and of the end of the age?"

4 And Jesus answered and said to them: "Take heed that no one deceives you.

5 For many will come in My Name, saying, 'I am the Christ,' and will deceive many.

6 And you will hear of wars and rumours of wars. See that you are not troubled; for all these things must come to pass, but the end is not yet.

I tell you, My servant, these things that I have spoken about have almost passed and they are being hurried by those in the world who wish it so. Laws that curtail the movements of a man are oppressive laws that usher in the laws of the one who sits where he should not be.

7 For nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom. And there will be famines, pestilences, and earthquakes in various places.

Have nations not risen against nation and will they not rise again and soon? Look, see the signs of your times! Did these risings not begin from little incidents? Then so it will be again. While you spend useless time looking for the great things to happen, it will only take a small one. Waste time not on these things but on readying your soul to meet Me.

8 All these are the beginning of sorrows.

All the confusion that you speak of is the sorrows that I have spoken of. All those who have been given Words from Me and My Mother hold back the real Words because they are afraid of the world and what it will say. Because they did not know the Truth of them and do not warn My little ones. You will have your sorrows to bear. The confusion that you speak of, My servant, is caused by those who only half believe in Me and My Power. It is those who have placed My children in this confusion by not speaking the Truth. I, the Lord, speak to whom I will for the good of My children, as the blind guides lead them astray. I speak Words for My children's knowledge and Warning but there are those who would keep My very Truth from them and lead them into confusion.

Read the signs of the times, therein lies the very truth. I have told you that if My Words were stopped then the very stones would sing and they are shouting out as they change from what they were. The dumb speak.

9 Then they will deliver you up to tribulation and kill you, and you will be hated by all nations for My Name's sake.

This time is indeed here; they hate My servants for what they say as they hated Me for what I have spoken of in the marketplaces.

10 And then many will be offended, will betray one another, and will hate one another.

This, My servant, is the sign of your time. You are steeped within it.

11 Then many false prophets will rise up and deceive many.

As I have told you, these are the ones who have changed the very Truth of the Scripture and have deceived many into believing falsely the Words that I have spoken.

12 And because lawlessness will abound, the love of many will grow cold.

Look around you! Are you blind? Even the law itself is corrupt; even within the law there is another law and, children, yet another.

13 But he who endures to the end shall be saved.

Your endurance is hearing the Truth and keeping it. Do it so that others will see it too.

14 And this Gospel of the Kingdom will be preached in all the world as a witness to all the nations and then the end will come.

I tell you that there are about a handful who do not know Me or have not heard of Me. Look around you! The shepherds have abandoned the sheep. They have struck the shepherd; look at the dead and do your tests and you will see the truth and, even then they will confuse you with words.

15 Therefore when you see the 'abomination of desolation,' spoken of by Daniel the prophet, standing in the holy place" (whoever reads, let him understand), You have seen him.

16 "then let those who are in Judea flee to the mountains. Do not believe the untruth but believe in the Truth as you know it. The lie is so subtle that it parades as the truth. It is not the Truth and soon you shall see.

17 Let him who is on the housetop not go down to take anything out of his house.

18 And let him who is in the field not go back to get his clothes.

19 But woe to those who are pregnant and to those who are nursing babies in those days!

20 And pray that your flight may not be in winter or on the Sabbath.

Be sure that you have the Truth with you. Do not wait to hear the untruth and thus let yourself be confused. Do not stop to listen to the false doctrines for they are so close to the Truth that they seem like the Truth. Deceit is all around you.

21 For then there will be great tribulation, such as has not been since the beginning of the world until this time, no, nor ever shall be.

The tribulation is in the confusion. Do not ignore the fact that love has grown cold. Even your priests are not to be found to help you to die.

22 And unless those days were shortened, no flesh would be saved; but for the elect's sake those days will be shortened.

And who are the elect? Those who persevere in the Truth to the end; those who refuse to see the Truth, now, will be lost: in fact, they are being lost because they do not hear the Truth.

23 Then if anyone says to you, 'Look, here is the Christ!' or 'There!' do not believe it.

Look to the skies; it is only there that you will see Me Come.

24 For false christs and false prophets will rise and show great signs and wonders to deceive, if possible, even the elect.

They are among you teaching you false doctrines.

25 See, I have told you beforehand.

These things are happening in the blinking of an eye. Do not waste time looking for them but save souls instead with the Truth.

26 Therefore if they say to you, 'Look, He is in the desert!' do not go out; or 'Look, He is in the inner rooms!' do not believe it.

27 For as the lightning comes from the east and flashes to the west, so also will the Coming of the Son of Man be.

Look for Me. You will find Me in the Truth.

28 For wherever the carcass is, there the eagles will be gathered together.

Matthew 24:3-28

This is what the world wishes to hear, they wish to hear the things that will sensationalize My Words. It is in Love, only, that you will survive. Saturday 1 July 2006

'This book is now published and is called 'I Am Coming.'

The White Elephant

by the Patricks

You may remember the following article from the August Newsletter last year. We have printed it again this month because we feel that its content is appropriate for the theme of this Newsletter to the real Truth? The Universe (Catholic newspaper) in November 2008, speaking about Pope Paul VI's 1968 encyclical Humanae Vitae (Of Human Life) said, "In the past, the Church has perhaps said too much about the Sixth Commandment ("Thou shalt not commit adultery.") It may have been better to remain silent." And, "The Church should always treat questions of sexuality and the family in such a way that a leading and decisive role is up to the responsibility of the person who loves."

Questions

What is wrong with us all? How can we have become so blind? Where is the world going? Where are the people who believe in God? Why are we not horrified at the things that are going on?

These are the questions that are going on in my mind as I write this article. There is a real white elephant sitting on the table. Am I the only one who sees it? And, if I am not, then why do I feel so alone in what I see?

What has blinded us?

A friend of the House of Prayer recently sent us a lot of cuttings from Catholic newspapers. I wondered why. As I began to read them, I saw why. I saw, again, the great white elephant that sits there on the kitchen table, screaming at the top of its voice about the way that everything that we hold dear is being slowly eroded away as quickly as water cutting through ice. What has blinded us? Who, with what, has blinded us so.

A communist world

I believe we are now living in a communist world without the communism. We are being dictated to about what we are allowed to do and what we are not. We, the two Patricks, are criticised for people who do not want to see the truth, even when it is staring them in the face.

Those who do not believe

Jesus said on Sunday 9 July 2006, "...Were it that My people of My Way could see the supreme good that there is in sacrifice. The way that the world lives now is not the right way to live but only what society has dictated to them. Those who dictate this are those who do not believe in Me and do not wish to see Me in the world. Many times, My servant, I have longed for My priests to be holy and true to the way that I have set for them but they only wish to be with the world..."

The Italian Cardinal Carlo Maria Martini, in

My blood runs cold

The encyclical Humanae Vitae was written about the preciousness of human life. So his point seems to be that we should have kept quiet about adultery, not say anything. So I ask him: what about all those wives and husbands down the years who have suffered because of infidelity? Just shut up and get on with it because we are being silent on this?

So, according to Martini, killing, especially babies in the womb, should have been kept silent about and if silence had prevailed then killing a child in the womb would not have been a sin because, if the Church had kept silent on it, it would not have been a sin.

And...

The Church should have basically no part in that 'non-sin,' 'remain silent about thing' and that a person should make up his or her own mind about whether they should commit this sin or not. My blood runs cold at the thought!

Right or wrong

Is it right or wrong of a cardinal, one of those in the highest ranks of the Catholic Church, to say this?

Or, is it wrong of the two Patricks to criticise his words that they believe will lead many people into the sin of adultery?

Is it proper for a cardinal

Would it be wrong of the two Patricks not to comment on these words of this cardinal just because he is a cardinal?

Is it proper for a cardinal to say that adultery should be kept silent about when it is part of the most fundamental guidance that God has lain down and that, as a cardinal, he is duty bound to uphold?

It is scary that no one, either lay or cleric has challenged this statement. Why?

Violation

Society dictates to us, Jesus said. Are these words of Cardinal Martini not the very words that society wants to hear? Are they not directly in violation of the very Words of God Himself? After all, it was God, Himself, who gave these Words in the Sixth Commandment to us through Moses.

mean nothing and My people will meet in underground places to worship Me. There will be two churches: one that is open and prays to itself and the other that is My True Church that worships Me in secret.

You will be aghast at these Words but I give you the Truth; already it has begun, already the wolf is at the door..."

It sounds to me that words like Cardinal Martini's are playing right into society's hands, giving them things to be challenged in court.

Serious consequences

Jesus also said on Friday 2 July 2004, "...Many things are about to happen in what is now called Europe. The influence of the evil one in this new country is greater than you could ever know. Things that will come will seem insignificant to begin with but, as with the Jews not so long ago, the true horrors will soon emerge.

Remember, what you elect now will have serious consequences although it will seem tame at the time.

Remember, too, that what is written on paper can be changed so what you think you vote for may not necessarily turn out to be. It will seem good but it will turn out the opposite..."

A tame thing

Let's take this simple little thing, a tame thing. Mary Kenny on 19 March 2009 brought up in her column the fact, and I quote, "...the European Union via the European Parliament which is proposing to prohibit the use of such titles as Miss, Mrs., Madame or Mademoiselle or any such equivalents such as Senora, Signora, Frau or Fraulein. The European Parliament's collective view is that it is 'discriminatory' to indicate whether a woman is married or not..." WHAT!!!!!!

Discriminatory

What is discriminatory about calling a woman by her title? It is a petty proposal. The European Parliament, I'm sure, has 'better' things to do than bring up such a paltry proposal. It was us who voted them in there. But...

Jesus said, "...Things that will come will seem insignificant to begin with but, as with the Jews not so long ago, the true horrors will soon emerge..."

What is coming?

What was He Warning us about? What is coming? When Hitler came to power, he began his reign of terror against the Jews with small things, insignificant. No one could have believed what horrors would emerge in the succeeding years. Remember too, that people CHOSE NOT to believe that it was happening. No one could have believed that a human being could have done what Hitler did. BUT, he did it, AND he got away with it until it was too late for many and not just the Jews. The fact that such titles as 'Miss' or 'Mrs.' are being proposed to be taken away is scary because God only knows what will come next.

And...

Will there come a day when men will say that the title 'Mr' is discriminatory against men? Why has the European Parliament not added this to their proposals? How will our children address their female teachers at school? By their first names?

Laughed at and tortured

Someday soon will these Words of Jesus come true? "...Soon, a court will decide how and when you will worship Me; soon you will be laughed at and tortured because you follow Me. In fact they will take you to court for loving Me. A judge will preside and decide what prayers will be said in My churches and My priests will have to follow these rules..." Hard to believe? That is why many Jews did not flee Europe because they did not believe it could happen.

New monetary system

Where could any of us believers flee to anyway? We could go to America, I suppose. If the European Parliament has turned sour then America seems to be a good place. Not so...

America is about to merge with Canada and South America, complete with a new monetary system. Just like Europe, many, many things will change. The rights that American citizens hold dear are slowly being taken away from them and they do not see the white elephant sitting on the table. Just like many in Europe.

The plans are in place

Soon other groups of countries will follow, losing their identities as is happening in Europe. It may already be too late to stop it. The plans are in place.

There is no escape.

Wake up

"...I beg of you to watch every move of the evil one for he plans much. DO NOT LET him WIN OVER YOU..." Saturday 19 January 2008, Day of Love

And...

"...Much is in place and so many of the things that I have asked for are not. My children, you love to be hypnotised by the world, yes, even by the glitter. You belong to Me yet you hand yourselves over day and daily to the plans of the evil one. Wake up!...Wake up, children! Wake up for your beds are about to be turned under you! Wake up for your interests are not Mine and your minds are slowly being taken over for you will not hear the Truth..." Saturday 10 January 2009, Day of Love.

It has begun

Jesus has told us in the Messages and I repeat, "... Soon, a court will decide how and when you will worship Me; soon you will be laughed at and tortured because you follow Me. In fact they will take you to court for loving Me. A judge will preside and decide what prayers will be said in My Churches and My priests will have to follow these rules..."

It has begun and well begun. The white elephant is screaming at us. There seems to be a move by the EU to undermine our right to believe in and express our religious beliefs. What they call 'Equal Treatment Directive.' Peter Costea of the Alliance for Romania's Families said, the directive is poorly thought out, "and fails to consider the conflicts which exist already between religious freedom and the goals of the homosexualist movement."

Preventing religious bodies

The new directive poses a direct threat to the protection of the rights and liberties of religious believers. "Europe's religious tradition is largely incompatible with the relatively new notion of sexual orientation non-discrimination," said Peter Costea. He added, "the directive will likely have the effect of preventing religious bodies from promoting the authentic biblical view on sexuality or sexual immorality in general and from criticising it."

Do these words not ring true when you put them beside Jesus' Words? "...Soon, a court will decide..."

Catholic Adoption Agencies

Oh, how that elephant is screaming! Our very religious freedom is being eroded away and still we sit and do nothing, still we vote these people into power, still we allow them to take our rights away from us. Even the Catholic Adoption Agencies are being discriminated against. They will and are being forced to do what they believe is morally wrong. We are all being forced to believe that sexual immorality is not a sin. Some priests even tell us that masturbation is not a sin anymore. I ask the question: all those people in years gone by who did not confess this sin and are in hell or Purgatory for it, what do we say to them?

Prophets, Visionaries and Seers

Of course, we must get rid of all things religious, we must take God out of the equation, at ALL costs. The scheme to get rid of the Prophets, Visionaries and Seers is a big part of that plan. The Prophets, Visionaries and Seers know too much because God tells them. Without them then the world only has a conscience that can be moulded into what lucifer wants. They must be shut up at all costs.

Persevere

Jesus Warned us on Sunday 7 June 2009, Feast of the Most Holy Trinity:

"...These things are already at hand, My children, I do not speak an untruth to you. I call you to persevere with Me in the Garden of Olives while you await this time that is close at hand.

My Prophets, Visionaries and Seers are sleeping..."

Losing their souls

And again on Sunday 12 July 2009:

"...Do not be alarmed that I am calling for more of My Houses, do not be alarmed that they are not in the places that you want them to be. I see the need and that need can be greater than yours.

I am calling you, My children, to show Me that you are with Me. Many of My children are so tainted by the world that they fail to hear My Voice calling out to them, they are in danger of losing their souls, I tell you truly, they have lost them already.

My Pleas for My Prophets, Visionaries and Seers have been ignored. They have found their own refuges, they ignore Mine. So be it! Unless I build the House, what you labour for is in vain.

My Houses are spreading far and wide into Europe and soon I will bring them into the world. Europe has become a cesspool of evil and even My own bathe in it daily. It reeks with the blood of faith and many choose to ignore it. The smell rises to Heaven and its pungency reaches My Father.

Come with Me, My children, love Me..."

A puppet for freemasonry

The Church is still alive and well. I speak of the Real Church, the True Church, the Church that still holds dear to those precious Words given her by her Master, Jesus. I do not speak of a church that has become cowardly in its actions, has become a puppet for freemasonry. It is this church that I speak against.

Ostracised

At the beginning, Prophets, Visionaries and Seers were listened to; they were the conscience of the Church.

7 For the Lord God doth nothing without revealing His secret to His servants the Prophets...Amos 3:7

In these latter years, they are being discriminated against and hounded because they know the Truth as given them by Jesus. But, ironically, even many Prophets, Visionaries and Seers have gone against their own Messages and, because the two Patricks did not follow suit, follow into the hands of those who would destroy the Gift of Prophecy as given by God, they are ostracised and left to go alone.

"...My Prophets, Visionaries and Seers are sleeping..." and "...My Pleas for My Prophets, Visionaries and Seers have been ignored. They have found their own refuges, they ignore Mine. So be it! Unless I build the House, what you labour for is in vain..."

He tries to stop God

What is being proposed by Ratzinger at this time should make all of us pale at the very thought of it. He tries to stop God from speaking through the people that He has chosen to speak for Him about the cowardly church that changes Gods own Laws.

From the depths of hell

Jesus asks ALL the Prophets to stand together to stop themselves being silenced so that the rest of the plans can be carried out.

Jesus said we must "...wait and see..."

And...

"Look! Look how the world encroaches; look how it seems that all is well. I tell you, in Truth, it is not. I have told you before that even a lie can seem like the Truth. Do not believe it for they come from the depths of hell to deceive you.

You have seen the one who waits, not for his time but for the one who shadows him. he bides his time and, I tell you, that time is soon. The very birds in the trees know it, the mountains can feel it; the dogs sniff the air and can smell it. You have been given the Warnings, the Words from My own Mouth and yet you fail to understand." (Sunday 7 June 2009)

10 And I have spoken by the Prophets and I have multiplied visions and I have used similitudes by the ministry of the Prophets.

Hosea 12:10

Communism

Dictionary definition

The dictionary definition of communism is: classless political system: the political theory or system in which all property and wealth is owned in a classless society by all the members of that society.

Jesus says "...Look at the countries of this world who allowed communism to rule them. The first thing to happen was that I was classed as an enemy. I was the first to go. Communism is the evil one's work and does not change anything. It pretends to change but the leaders of communism become the dictators that they overthrew in the first place. There is no change for the better. Many innocent people have died through these regimes that do not even know Me..." "...Communism will not work because it is a lie. It has an outer layer of helping one another but it is untrue because those living under it starve..."

History of art in Russia

A few weeks ago, I watched an art program on television which was a history of art in Russia during the time of Stalin and communism.

In the program, the commentator was explaining that during the time of Stalin the art was seriously controlled and censored.

Veneration and love

He went on to explain that Stalin studied carefully the religious art in the churches with its reverence and symbolism and realised that this type of art was responsible for expressing much veneration and love in the people towards God and the religious traditions. He calculated that the same veneration could be transferred to the communist ideology by the same means.

For example, threaded throughout the religious art was a concept where God was given a glorious high position, through use of colour, symbolism and structure. An example was a typical Russian painting of God placed in the centre, with Angels positioned to the left and to the right, flying above Him in a way that depicted respect and obedience to Him.

Propaganda

The Communist leader took these concepts and transcribed them into propaganda for his own purposes. An example being a large painting of Stalin placed in a position of God-like authority and reverence. To the left and right of this painting were Russian war planes where had been once Angels around God.

No longer tolerated

This 'theme' became very much the norm throughout Russia and gradually the God-art became something that was no longer tolerated or accepted.

Artists were then put in two categories, the establishment painters who worked to promote the communist ideology and the 'outcast' artists who were forced underground and held secret artist collectives where they painted the truth of what was happening in Russian society.

Deprived of work and food

The artists who worked for the party were given wages, food and respect. The underground painters were starved, imprisoned, executed and their families were also deprived of work and food.

Many of them could not even tell family members what they were doing.

In a state of perpetual fear

The 'party' painters depicted propaganda art such as highly idealised fresh faced smiling workers and farmers toiling and gathering for the glory of Russia - no one in these paintings was persecuted, starved or in a state of perpetual fear and paranoia.

'Watched'

While underground, the painters painted the great lie for what it was, showing the countryside and workers being 'watched' from the black cars which became synonymous with the 'big brother' party elite.

God and religion would be wiped out

Stalin believed that eventually, a generation or two down the road, God and religion would be wiped out from the hearts and minds of the people and the indoctrination would be total, the oppression and propaganda would ensure this, no one dared to have exposed religious objects and everyone was afraid of their neighbour. Love of God and neighbour was systematically destroyed.

Enforcing the celebrations

While I was spending a month in the House of Prayer in L'Absie a couple of years ago, I happened to be there during the French celebrations of 'Bastille Day.'

Bastille Day is a French national holiday, 14 July, marking the storming of the Bastille in 1789 at the start of the French Revolution. It was also the beginning of communism in France.

Everywhere in L'Absie town square there are speakers erected, which you can not turn off. Everyone in their houses or working in the shops and businesses around L'Absie has to listen to whatever comes through these speakers. For example, while we were trying to pray, all we could hear was the singing and talking through these speakers which, to my mind, was the state's way of enforcing the Bastille celebrations on the French people and on me.

The roads were deserted

Although these celebrations appeared to be all over France, when I looked out of the windows of the House of Prayer, the square and the roads were deserted. It was so creepy and eerie. The worst thing was that I could not turn it off. I had no choice but to listen to what the state wanted me to listen to.

A thing of the past

We think that today communism does not pose a threat or danger to us. We think that it is a thing of the past.

When Jesus was asking for the Houses of Prayer in Poland and France, He said "...Its mission upon this earth is to pray for those who are communist; that they will receive the Graces necessary to convert for, even though communism is falling, lucifer still has many pockets of it that he could lead to victory again..." Saturday 21 January 2006

And, "...The shadow of communism grows stronger because France has given her free will to it. But, through you, I will make that shadow shorten because of your hands, your feet, your voice..."

Tuesday 3 May 2005

We do not see communism because it is ingrained into our very society. As Jesus said on Tuesday 29 January 2008 when talking about the third secret of Fatima, "My Mother's secret has not been fully revealed and no, it has not been fulfilled. Look around you and see the Truth. Russia has spread the error of her ways, communism is a part of every day life now; My Church is crumbling, it is being destroyed from within, as was seen in the vision, this city is My Church."

I would not be surprised then if this same control, that was used only several decades ago, is used very soon in our own country and in others.

Fear and suspicion

I have watched and listened to the propaganda over the swine flu 'pandemic' and the anti-smoking laws.

I have seen how if you do not believe that homosexuality is right, you are classed as 'homophobic,' even to the extent that a priest who refused Holy Communion to a gay couple, who were known to be living together, was threatened to be taken to the European Court of Human Rights. Never mind the priest's rights, he does not matter! Hypocrites!!!

Feminism

I have seen how feminism has become part of the very fabric of our society. It has stopped being about equality and is now about domination. By the way, I am a woman who is writing this. "...Feminism is another dictatorship that allows no freedom, even though those who believe in it feel they are in freedom. Those who believe it are not free to believe and its members are pressurised into further sin..." Sunday 5 January 2003

It is feminism in all its glory that has pushed our abortion laws so far that abortion is available on demand. So again it is the right of one person over another - what about the babies' rights? Oh, yes, like the priest, they don't matter.

In the guise of good

Many things are happening in the world that are so bad but are in the guise of good. Take the current slow drip feeding persuasion on euthanasia. Look at how people's opinions are changing on the morality of such a thing. Where is it all going to end?

Government propaganda from anti-religious dictators sweeps through the consciousness of the population causing fear and suspicion which I would liken to the atheistic views that were so prevalent in soviet Russia. It reminds me of a vision that Patrick received not so long ago where they saw many people lying down on the ground while others walked over the top of them.

Dictatorship of lucifer

As Jesus said, "...So much blindness in this world! And that blindness is all against Me. You will see, if you look, that many things that were once Mine have now been removed. In many countries, at one time, I was the fundamental belief in that country but now I have been removed so that the dictatorship of lucifer can be allowed in.

Are you blind, My children? Can you not see that soon evil people, who only think of themselves, will move in and not allow you to worship Me?

You, who think that nothing will stop you from doing that, will soon have to run for your lives just to pray to Me and this, within a few years of your time. Do you not see it happening already? Many of My people are concerned about the way that things are being done now within My Church. They can see the Truth but they will continue to believe the lies that are being told about Me and they will do nothing about it...” Sunday 5 January 2003 And on Friday 2 July 2004, He said, “...Soon, a court will decide how and when you will worship Me; soon you will be laughed at and tortured because you follow Me. In fact they will take you to court for loving Me. A judge will preside and decide what prayers will be said in My Churches and My priests will have to follow these rules. Prayers, My children, will become empty words that mean nothing and My people will meet in underground places to worship Me. There will be two churches: one that is open and prays to itself and the other that is My True Church that worships Me in secret. You will be aghast at these Words but I give you the Truth; already it has begun, already the wolf is at the door. I have asked the world to reacquire itself with the Messages of Garabandal, La Salette and

I include Mount Melleray (Ireland) so that it could see the Truth of these Words and how they are being fulfilled before its eyes...”

Slowly taken away

In the South of Ireland, according to ‘Alive’ Newspaper and other Irish papers, the religious objects are being slowly taken away. It won’t be too long before the Shrines will be removed.

The ‘Celtic Tiger’ attitude has ensured that Ireland has been bought and paid for by her involvement with Europe.

Already her old religious traditions are being wiped out one by one.

Indeed, as in Russia, it is becoming increasingly unpopular to be a Christian at all.

Where is it all going to end?

Christians are Becoming The Most Discriminated Against Group in Society

Disciplined

When you call to mind ‘a PERSECUTED Christian’ you generally wouldn’t think of a five year old in a school in England being told off for telling her friend about Jesus would you?? Or her mother who was the secretary of the school being disciplined by her employers for sending an email to her friends to ask them to ‘pray for the situation!’ Or a teacher who was doing home tuition for a sick pupil being sacked for telling her mother she would pray for her. No I bet you wouldn’t!! I bet you think of Christians in the likes of Korea, China, Iran etc who are persecuted for their faith on a much higher scale.

Subtle

The persecution in this part of the world is much more subtle!! And it’s all in the name of political correctness. It seems that anyone who believes in God or a way of life that is Christian and which upholds the morals and beliefs of Christianity better watch out! Because EVERYONE is out to get you!! Why?? Because the law says that everyone else is allowed to be protected for their beliefs or lifestyles except us Christians!!! Christian groups are starting to make noise about how political correctness is becoming a dangerous tool for those who feel the faith has no place in secular society.

Smokescreen

The sad thing is that it all seems to be a big smokescreen. Society says that ‘everyone’ is offended by talk of God or prayers or wearing Christian symbols such as the Crucifix. But I say it’s not true!! I have a friend who is a Sikh and we are able to chat about our lifestyles and it doesn’t offend her that I celebrate Christmas or go to Mass or tell my kids about Jesus or that I wear a Crucifix around my neck! Same as it doesn’t offend me that she wears a turban, doesn’t cut her hair and celebrates her own Sikhi feast days. So who is offended??? Just because one person might be, and that somebody in government has decided that he doesn’t like it, doesn’t mean that everyone else should fall into line with that!! It would be true religious freedom if we were all able to get on and just respect each other for our beliefs rather than starting wars over it or crying because someone else doesn’t agree with what I believe!! Just get on with it. If the bed and breakfast you booked in to is owned by a Christian who doesn’t agree with your homosexual lifestyle then go to another one!! It’s not the end of the world. Not that I condone homosexual relationships but, at the end of the day, God gave us free will and even He can’t stop us sinning or doing whatever it is we have chosen to do in our free will. But don’t expect me or the B&B owner to deny what we believe just because you want to stay. Either respect our beliefs and book two rooms or go somewhere else. That may sound cheeky or horrible but this whole notion of ‘my rights’ has gone too far. The world does not revolve around ‘me’ and my selfish desires.

Sacked

The world has come to a sad state of affairs when a Christian nurse has been sacked from her job for simply offering to pray for her patient. It was not too long ago that all or most of the hospitals in this country were run by nuns and the majority of hospitals were actually set up by the Church, be it the Catholic Church or the Church of England. And indeed, kept open through thick and thin by nuns who were also nurses. I’m sure prayers were part of the bedside manner at that time!! Any time I was in hospital I would have loved it if someone had taken the time of day to sit down with me and say a prayer or have a chat. It reminds me of the Message Jesus gave where He said: ‘Soon, a court will decide how and when you will worship Me; soon you will be laughed at and tortured because you follow Me. In fact they will take you to court for loving Me. A judge will preside and decide what prayers will be said in My Churches and My priests will have to follow these rules.’ Friday 2 July 2004

We are blinded

There is so much that goes on that we cannot see or that we are blinded to by this ‘smokescreen’ that is put in front of us. It is scary to think that the strings of the whole of Europe are being pulled by one person and their intentions are NOT good. As Jesus said in the same Message on 2 July 2004:

‘The influence of the evil one in this new country is greater than you could ever know.’

Do not abandon Ireland to this evil

On Friday 11 August 1995, Jesus gave this Message for Ireland.

“My little children, I need you. I need you to come to Me for behind your backs they bring abortion into your homes. They will take your very rights away from you. I tell you this now so that you shall know when it happens. I tell you to prepare you and be ready to fight it at all costs. Begin your preparation now.

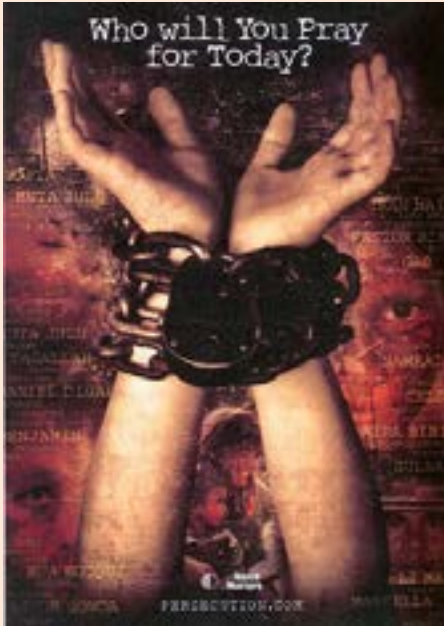

Do not abandon Ireland to this evil. Do not let them take your light away for I have given it to you Myself. I Love you and I need you to stand up and fight now. I Love you.

Now, My children, you have work to do. Will you now do it or shall I look for others?"

Jesus Warned us back in 1995 that our rights would be taken away from us. It seems that these Words of His are coming to pass.

George Orwell's 'Animal Farm'

The following article was taken from the Alive Newspaper, January 2010. It ties in very well with the points made above. It is true that our basic human rights are indeed under threat and all this, in the guise of giving rights to others. Human rights should be for all humans not just for a select few whom society, or the so called European Court of Human Rights, favour at the time. It smacks of the old adage from George Orwell's 'Animal Farm:' 'all animals are equal but some are more equal than others.' At this time Christians are being trampled on at every turn in favour of minority groups who seem to have a louder and louder voice in society. The words of the Cardinal in the article below are prophetic of what I believe will happen in the future

Cardinal criticises grave abuses by 'the human rights industry'

CARDINAL George Pell has called for the freedom to practise one's religion and live by one's beliefs to be recognised as a basic human right which is legally protected, and not seen simply as "an exemption" in equality law.

We have to stop using the word 'exemptions' in anti-discrimination laws "because it suggests that religious freedom is a government grant or concession, not a fundamental human right," said the Australian Cardinal.

and the not too distant future at that. Actually, no, it is already happening!! And it's nothing Jesus hasn't Warned us about!! Why then are we surprised?

Vigorously oppose
He called on Christians to vigorously oppose "the human rights industry" when it uses notions like 'equality' to undermine fundamental values like respect for human life and religious freedom.

When this industry "starts to treat religious freedom as a problem, it makes itself an ugly Goliath" which must be slain.

Fabricating new rights
Leftwing, anti-religious extremists are fabricating new rights, "such as those to abortion, anti-discrimination and same-sex marriage," to push their own secular agenda he said.

Overthrow
They are using these to overthrow genuine rights, such as "the right to life, the recognition of the family based on marriage as the fundamental unit of society; the rights of parents to determine the moral and religious education of their children; and the rights to freedom of religion, belief, and conscience."

Archbishop of Sydney, the Cardinal gave the keynote address at a recent conference organised by the Australian Christian Lobby. He highlighted, in particular, the growing use of laws and charters to diminish religious freedom.

"Anti-discrimination laws which do not respect fundamental human rights such as freedom of religion and conscience, are unjust laws," he said. And people "should not be afraid to say so."

The Cardinal urged all those who favour freedom of speech and religion to oppose a federal Charter of Rights.

He warned, "it will be used, as it is now used in Britain, to threaten and harass those manifesting religion in public life and especially the Christian religion."

Freedom from sex discrimination, he said, was being devalued by being linked with "ambiguous categories such as 'sexual orientation,' and fantasies of the zeitgeist such as 'gender identity'."

Religious freedom

He argued that if acceptance of same-sex marriage became an important principle of government policy, it would lead to a collision with Christian beliefs, with enormous consequences for religious freedom.

Areas affected would include: "marriage preparation and counselling, decisions about medical treatment by next of kin, school enrolments, sex education in secondary schools, the hire of parish and church facilities for events, and arrangements for married couples in emergency housing and retreat and aged care centres."

He hit out at the increasing number of human rights laws and charters which end up violating and diminishing key human rights rather than protecting them.

"These great matters must be decided politically and we should not let our minority opponents shuffle them off to the courts, much less to commissions," he said.

Thoroughly unjust

The human rights agenda seems to be totally anti-Christian and indeed anti-God in any religious sense and if a Christian wants to stand up for his or her rights they are completely disregarded in favour of these 'new rights' that the Cardinal mentions. It seems that it is 'everyone's' right to discriminate against Christians and we better keep our mouths shut!! This is a thoroughly unjust and corrupt way of thinking but this is the way of things these so called 'modern' days! Sad but true that in a civilised society one group's rights is seen as more important than another. We are all equal in the sight of God and He is the only Judge.

He is not wanted

We can see that Jesus needs us now more than ever. He is being battered from everywhere. He is not wanted anywhere, schools, hospitals - even in His own beloved Church He is not wanted!!

Now is the time to stand up and be counted. Are we with Him or against Him??

APPEAL Thank you

We would like to sincerely thank you all for all of your help and your prayers in the buying of and setting up of the two new Houses for Jesus. It's only through your generosity that we can carry out what Jesus asks. We are deeply moved by your trust and giving. Thank you. Thank You, Jesus.

Another house

We have just recently been given the gift of a house in another part of Ireland, however, as you may or may not know, gifts don't always come free in Ireland and this one comes with a €10,000 tax fee. This House will complete that "Cross over Ireland" that Jesus spoke about in the early days. If anyone can help with this, we would be really grateful. Please pray for this.

Printing press

Last month we appealed for financial help for a four colour printer. Afterwards we realised that the printer was too big and we did not have the room for it. We now withdraw this appeal as we are no longer purchasing this printer. Any money that has been received for this appeal will be put into the other appeals and we thank you for your prayers and generosity or for any help that you have given us. May Jesus Bless you all.

Jesus-1 Europe Nil

The following article from the Alive Newspaper, is an update on the story we printed in our January Newsletter, 'No more Crucifixes in schools.'

Court puts Italian law above ECHR rulings

IN a major decision which has received little publicity, Italy's Constitutional Court has ruled that Italian law and custom are above any orders from the European Court of Human Rights (ECHR). Where rulings by the ECHR conflict with provisions of the Italian Constitution, such rulings "lack legitimacy," said the Italian judges. They were drawing a line in the sand, limiting outside interference in national matters.

Last November the Strasbourg-based ECHR provoked an outcry in Italy with a ruling that having Crucifixes in state schools was discriminatory.

The court upheld a complaint by an atheist that a Crucifix in her children's classroom violated their religious freedom.

Break

According to Roger Kiska, legal counsel for the Alliance Defense Fund, the Italian court has given a clear signal that Italy may be prepared to break with the ECHR if it loses its appeal against the Crucifix ruling.

David Quinn of the Iona Institute commented that the ECHR ruling "was motivated by an anti-religious animus, pure and simple." It "used the Convention on Human Rights as a fig-leaf to justify its secularist objection to religion as such."

The European court, said Quinn, "believes that the right of parents to educate their children according to their choice is only to be supported when that choice is against religion, not when it is for religion." It is expected that the Italian ruling will give the Irish Supreme Court the courage to stand up to the ECHR should it rule against Ireland's constitutional protection for unborn children in the A, B and C v. Ireland case.¹

JESUS SPEAKS ABOUT EUROPE

Saturday 29 July 2006

Patrick:

Jesus, I have been trying to explain for some time now, the things that are within me. I keep feeling the Houses of Prayer in France and Spain and the others that You have been showing me. It is hard to describe.

The sensation or feeling that comes is that I was in these places; not only that, but that I had lived there all my life, as though I were French or Spanish. It is as if I were part of that culture and I always had been. I cannot seem to get it into words but You know what I mean, Jesus.

Jesus:

My servant, I give you these Gifts so that you will understand what it is that I want of these places. My Plan for Europe is beginning. There is much evil planned for this country and I must take the parts of it that I can get through those who still believe in Me. Those who believe must be prepared to keep the faith alive during the persecution against Me that is imminent. Already, it has begun. You can see this.

Before, in history, there was a dictator who tried to take over it and he did much damage. I tell you that what is happening now, in secret, is the same but under a different name; a seemingly better name but the results are the same. A few countries will control the rest and among them will be the one who was wounded and lives again. The other countries will destroy the faith of all if I do not put these Plans of Mine into action. Do not listen to those who tell you that it is good for, what looks good on the outside, is not always necessarily good on the inside.

27 "Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you are like whitewashed tombs which indeed appear beautiful outwardly but inside are full of dead men's bones and all uncleanness.

28 Even so you also outwardly appear righteous to men but inside you are full of hypocrisy and lawlessness. Matthew 23:27-28

This is how it is with those who take control. They will take away faith in Me in a subtle way; they will render Me useless. They will make only buying and selling useful and this with consequences. Do you not see it happening? Soon all countries will boast abortion laws and the evil one will have his sacrifices that he needs to fulfil his plan. I have told you all these things in truth, I do not lie.

I allow you to feel these things, My servant, because I must show the world what is happening. Can you imagine war without war? Think! Can you imagine poverty without poverty? Can you imagine life without Life? Think!

I need you to continue to believe in My Plans for My Houses, My servant. All these things are coming to pass and there are few to stop them. A great cloud hangs over Europe, a cloud darker than what was there before; darker with subtle evil. The churches crumble for lack of those who believe; for lack of those who wish to believe that I can save this country.

If it is allowed to go on then this will become a desolate land. That is why I wish to keep it alive in you so that you can tell others and they too, can make it live. I Love you.

Our freedom

We can see that our freedom is slowly being taken away by the EU. Jesus has Warned us about our freedom being taken away from us. It is being done under the guise of good, under the pretence of equality for all. This is perhaps the greatest lie. The following article appeared in Pro-Life Times, May 2007.

The EU try to force abortions on countries where it is illegal

Polish woman gets compensation for having the baby she wanted to abort

"A thirty six year old Polish woman who was denied an abortion in Poland has won €25,000 damages against the Polish government in the European Court of Human rights.

Alicia Tysiac was refused an abortion for her third child, on the grounds that her deteriorating eyesight would be threatened if the pregnancy continued. Polish doctors considered that she was 'significantly disabled', but that her condition did not warrant the death of her unborn child.

Pro-Life leaders in Poland say the court's decision is another effort to pressure Poland to recognise a right to abortion and to loosen restrictions.

Ewa Kowalewska, president of the Forum of Polish Women said, "Recognition of the fact that refusal to kill a child breaches provision of the Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms is a precedent which opens the door to abortion as a 'human right'."

Mrs Kowalewska continued, "We ask the European Court of Human Rights: who is going to assert the rights of Alicia Tysiac's child, who survived only thanks to the honesty of Polish physicians?"

Poland does allow abortion in cases of rape, where there is a medical threat to the mother and for eugenic purposes where the child is severely disabled."

Trampled on the laws

Clearly the European Court trampled on the laws of the country in the guise of one person's human rights and, in so doing, completely took away the rights of her unborn child, the rights of the majority in that country who do not believe that abortion is morally right, and the rights of the Polish government to govern the land. Remember, Poland has already suffered greatly at the hands of Nazi Germany and Communist Russia in the past. They have fought for and earned the right to govern themselves as the free country that they are. How can Europe now interfere and say this woman has more rights than that of her baby and that the laws of the country of which she is a citizen are wrong because they protect all of their citizens whether they are in the womb or not? Can nobody see this for the lie that it is?

Pro-choice

This next article, about the same woman, appeared in the Austrian times. It gives quite a derogatory version of events from the pro-choice point of view.

Polish woman refused abortion becomes victim of hate campaign by religious groups

"A Polish woman who won a six year battle against her country after it refused to allow her to have an abortion is the victim of a hate campaign led by Catholic organisations.

Alicja Tysiac, thirty five, sued Poland after doctors refused her an abortion in staunchly Catholic Poland although her pregnancy threatened to leave her blind. Last month the European Court of Human Rights (ECHR) rejected an appeal by the government against an earlier ruling in Tysiac's favour, and ordered it to pay her 17,000 pounds in compensation.

But she has become the centre of a vicious hate campaign from religious groups, the media and even some politicians. A religious organisation called "The Social Committee for Promoting Marriage", which is affiliated with the Polish Episcopal Council's family division, is gathering signatures to a letter of protest addressed to the European Court of Justice and to President Lech Kaczynski (This is the president who was killed in the plane crash in Russia) Prime Minister Jaroslaw Kaczynski's twin brother. "The refusal of the abortion was in accordance with Polish law. That is why, as a citizen, I cannot accept the ECHR ruling, which was taken against the binding law of my fatherland," reads the letter. The Polish Catholic press and the episcopacy have also spoken out against the ruling. Editor of Catholic weekly "Gosc Niedzielny" compared judges at the European Court to Nazi war criminals. Poland's primate, Jozef Glemp, also said: "A mother criticizes doctors for not carrying out a life sentence on her own child. Poland and Polish doctors have been punished for saving a life." The campaign comes after some politicians and the media criticised her for seeking an abortion. Abortion law in Poland, though one of the most restrictive in Europe, does allow women to have an abortion in three instances: When the mother's health is at serious risk; when the foetus has irreversible deformations; or when the pregnancy resulted from rape or incest. Alicja, from Warsaw, says her troubles began after she became pregnant for the third time in March 2000. She already suffered from myopia and was told by three specialist ophthalmologists that her eyesight would be at serious risk if she decided to go ahead with the birth. The restrictive abortion laws, introduced under pressure from the Catholic Church, stipulate that cases like Alicja's require a medical certificate for the pregnancy to be terminated on therapeutic grounds. However, none of the three ophthalmologists involved was ready to issue such a certificate, despite Alicja's pleas. Alicja went to a general practitioner, and only then was she issued a certificate confirming the health risks caused by her pregnancy with regards to the risk to her eyesight. By the second month of her pregnancy, in April 2000, her myopia had deteriorated further and she was given an abortion appointment on 26 April 2000 at a general hospital in Warsaw. But the head of the gynaecology and obstetrics department, named only as Dr R D in legal papers, decided that there were no medical grounds for performing a therapeutic abortion - and Alicja had no choice but to deliver her third child, Julia, by caesarean in November 2000. A retinal haemorrhage left her almost blind and she has now been classified by doctors as significantly disabled with a condition that needs regular treatment and daily assistance. She cannot see objects more than three feet away, and has already started to learn Braille ready for when she will eventually become blind. She is unable to work, and is registered as severely disabled, surviving on a monthly benefits payments equivalent to about ninety five pounds. She lives with her three children, Krystian, sixteen, Patrycja, fourteen, and Julia, six, in ninety square feet flat - and says she has barely enough money to feed her kids because she cannot work with her disability. Tysiac said: "Not one of those Catholic organisations that are glad I was forced to give birth has ever turned to me offering any kind of material help in bringing up my children."

<http://austriantimes.at/index.php?id=1100&print=1-newentry> (April 2010)

Extremely selfish act

I am sorry for Alicia's condition and the fact that her eyesight has deteriorated. But one must look at the facts.

The above article states that this Polish woman is 'the victim of a hate campaign led by Catholic organisations.'

How can gathering signatures in a letter of protest be labelled as a vicious hate campaign! Are the Polish people now not allowed to stand up for their country and for their God and for their rights and beliefs?

Why is Europe so quick to defend this woman and not even acknowledge that there are other rights here that are being stepped on?

And, who told the reporter of the above article that Poland's 'restrictive abortion laws, (were) introduced under pressure from the Catholic Church...?'

The Church does not have the power to force its laws on governments or individuals. Any influence that the Church once had on these, has long since been taken from her by the world.

People do what they want now and, as this woman so clearly proves, if they don't get what they want, they fight until they do.

What is also deeply disturbing is that the article states, 'Alicja had no choice but to deliver her third child, Julia, by caesarean in November 2000.' No choice! Am I insane?! What about the baby's choice! Here we are again with the great lie. One person's rights over another.

How must that child feel

I cannot help but feel sorry for Alicia's child, Julia, who will know that her mother wanted to abort her. She still seems resentful that Polish doctors refused her an abortion, how must that child feel?

It seems to me to be an extremely selfish act to want to kill your own child to preserve your sight which, in all probability, would have deteriorated anyway.

Most of us have some cross or other to bear in our lives and by the Grace of God we accept these and learn to live with them. The world doesn't owe us a living. We all just have to make do with what we have.

Simply another attack

This case, to me, is simply another attack by the devil on the innocent unborn. There are so few countries now where abortion is not legal and the devil is doing his utmost to force these countries into accepting abortion as a 'right' of the people.

Ireland too is under attack Poland is not the only country under this attack of legalizing the murder of its children. Ireland, too, is under attack. Three women, known as A, B and C, are taking the Irish government to court because they have to go to England to have abortions! Poor them. These women want Europe to force Ireland to change its laws so that it is easier for woman to kill their own children.

Ireland's restrictive laws The only information I could find on this case was from the Irish Family Planning Association website. Read this article below and see what is happening behind closed doors, realise that the unborn are under serious attack. Remember also that, so far, Europe has proved itself anti-God, anti-religious and favours the rights of anyone over Christianity. Do Jesus' Words not ring true, "Children of this world, I call you to be watchful and save yourselves from the false promises of the evil one. I tell you this so that you can know what is coming. Many things are about to happen in what is now called Europe. The influence of the evil one in this new country is greater than you could ever know. Things that will come will seem insignificant to begin with but, as with the Jews not so long ago, the true horrors will soon emerge. Remember, what you elect now will have serious consequences although it will seem tame at the time..." Friday 2 July 2004

IFPA wishes to commend The European Court of Human Rights, today (9/12/09), heard a challenge to Ireland's restrictive laws on abortion. Three women living in Ireland challenged Ireland's ban on abortion on the grounds that the law jeopardised their health and their well-being in violation of their rights under the European Convention on Human Rights. The Irish Family Planning Association (IFPA) which is providing support to the three applicants, welcomes the decision by the European Court of Human Rights to hear their case in its most important forum, the Grand Chamber.

The IFPA wishes to commend the bravery of three applicants in taking a case to the European Court of Human Rights, particularly given the unhelpful nature of abortion discourse in Ireland. The three applicants have waited over five years to have their voices heard at this important forum for the protection of human rights and are looking forward to having their human rights vindicated.

According to the IFPA, today is a hugely significant day for reproductive rights in Ireland. The fact that Ireland's draconian laws on abortion have been put under the spotlight at this important human rights arena is a landmark for women living in Ireland.

Ireland's restrictions on abortion violate international human rights norms because they inflict such grievous harm to women's health and well-being.

The IFPA believes that women and girls' rights are disproportionately infringed upon by the inaccessibility and criminalisation of safe and legal abortion services in Ireland.

The IFPA is confident that when the Court issues its judgment it will establish a minimum degree of protection to which a woman seeking an abortion to protect her health and well-being would be entitled.

Ireland's restrictive laws on abortion are totally out of step with those of its European neighbours: forty four out of forty seven European countries provide for abortion to protect women's health.

The overwhelming consensus throughout Europe allows for some access to legal abortion to protect a woman's health and well-being, applying a more effective, less punitive approach than that which is in force in Ireland.

The IFPA believes that women and girls do not give up their human rights when they become pregnant nor should the State take these human rights away with impunity. (From the IPPF website)

Human rights

Some sickening view points there. There are only three countries out of forty seven where the unborn child is safe from its mother's 'choice.' And now the battle plans are drawn to force these countries to accept abortion on demand.

Well, Ireland, here's what Jesus says to you:

Message from Jesus

"My children of Ireland, I, the Lord, your God would speak with you. You have brought My Anger to the fore with your talk of abortion. You plan to introduce abortion into this country without the permission of your God. You have offended Me.

I give you a little time to change this policy before I show you that you have indeed angered Me. You are already in the mire and, by these Words, I try to pull you out. I have called My Prophets, Visionaries and Seers together, those who did not betray Me, so that I could tell you these things.

Government of Ireland, I address you. I tell you and I remind you that I have toppled greater kings than you and I tell you that your secret things are not hidden from Me as you have hidden them from the people of this country. You are about to abort a mighty nation of people who could win true freedom for you. Do not do it.

Cardinals, bishops and priests, you who act with My Authority, I call you to speak out in every church, the length and breadth of this country. Do not ignore My Laws or My Truth.

I know who you are and I know which of you believes in this great crime. Change your ways back to My Ways. Come back.

I speak to you, media, I am Jesus Christ, the Truth. Spread these Words of Mine for this country needs them more than the bad news that you already give to them. Tell your readers that abortion is a crime against their God." Saturday 22 November 2003

Do not want it

This Message says to me

the women will win their case. The government of Ireland have already held several referendums about their abortion laws and the people DO NOT WANT IT LEGALISED. Which part of this is hard to understand? I have to say I would not be surprised if the whole thing was a set up to get abortion legalized in Ireland without the majority consent of the people. Ireland fought many bloody battles to have its freedom, then it sold its freedom to Europe. We are going to be forced to accept laws that we neither want or agree with, laws that suit a minority.

Let's wait and see

Poland fought the European Court's decision. Italy fought the European Court's decision. Now let's wait and see if Ireland challenges the court's decision. Let's wait and see.

If it does not, then it is up to us to cause such an uproar, as the people of Poland did, as the people of Italy did, that we will be listened to. We have to do it for the children.

"Saint Joseph's Hospice" Spiritual support of the evil kind!!!

Sisters of Charity

You would think by the title "Saint Joseph's Hospice" what would be offered was support of the good spiritual kind, rather than the evil spiritual kind!!! Wouldn't you? However, in these 'modern times,' that's no longer the case.

We were recently given an article from a magazine produced by "Saint Joseph's Hospice, under the Care of the Sisters of Charity" in London.

Die in peace

The Hospice was set up over one hundred years ago. Father Gallwey, from Co. Kerry, Ireland, was the Rector of Farm Street Jesuit Mission. His greatest concern was the dire condition of the poor who suffered and died in the disease-ridden east end of London. He wanted to have a place for them where they could die in peace. He was aware of the hospitals, hospices and schools founded in Ireland by the Sisters of Charity, so over thirty years, he sent several requests for Sisters to work along side the poor in the east end.

Sweat and sacrifice

When funding and finance were available, five Sisters of Charity were sent over to London from Dublin in 1900 to set up this hospice which finally opened in 1905, after much sweat and sacrifice from these heroic nuns who worked in this very poor area.

The Sisters were inspired by the words of their Foundress, Mary Aikenhead, who expressed her desire that "the poor be given for love which the rich obtain for money." For her, the suffering poor had been God's nobility. You can read more of this very moving history in: http://www.stjh.org.uk/who_we_are/historyarchive.html

Terminally ill patients

This hospice is still a place for people who are dying and a support for them. However the influences have certainly changed. GPs in that borough of London can refer their terminally ill patients there. The scary thing about it is that as part of the "support" it is now offering to the patients alternative therapies such as: acupuncture, aromatherapy, massage, reflexology, relaxation, reiki, life coaching and touch therapy.

And in the future they hope to expand and bring in: yoga, pilates, tai chi, qi gong, meditation, sitting groups, hypnotherapy, Indian head massage, shiatsu, cranial sacral therapy, Swedish massage, cupping therapy and other creative pursuits.

Alarm bells are ringing at reiki! As Jesus told us:

Wednesday 21 May 2003

Patrick:

Jesus, what about reiki? What is it?

Jesus:

It is a danger to My children. It is a ploy of the evil one to influence My people, he uses many kinds of these things to blind and block My Power within them.

It (reiki etc.) is worship of self. Self is the healer, combined with the spirits of the abyss. It is not of Me or My Kingdom; it is of lucifer's kingdom.

Remember, I have already told this world that he is the father of lies and this is one of his lies. There are many different forms of these darkneses in this world, they are known by many different names but they are still the lies of lucifer.

Calling upon spiritual energy that is not of Me is very dangerous for there is only Good and evil in the spirit world, there are no in betweens. You either follow Me or you do not. You cannot say that you follow Me and follow the ways of lucifer at the same time.

Patrick:

Jesus, are You talking about things like reflexology, eneagram, Toronto blessing, and I don't know. I think there are hundreds of things like this.

Jesus:

Yes, My son, all these things are not of Me. There is nowhere within My Gospels that you heard Me speak of these things. I have shown My people the path to follow. Before you can produce fruit, you must die to yourself. All these things allow My people to use the power of the spirit without dying to self.

Without dying to self you cannot use My Power for I am the Truth and My Power is Truth, My Spirit is Truth and He cannot be influenced by the desires of self. Within My Scriptures, I have Warned you to stay away from necromancers, fortune tellers, diviners, and suchlike for they do not use My Holy Spirit; they use the power of lucifer, many times unknown to themselves. he disguises his power to look good in the eyes of My people and so they are easily fooled for they are not willing to go upon the journey of dying to self.

Truth is My Way; it is not the way of this world. lucifer marvels at how easily My people are fooled and at how willing they are to travel a spiritual path that they believe will gain them strength. These children are so easily fooled into thinking they have found an easy way into My Kingdom but I tell you, the only path to My Kingdom is the path of Truth; that path that is found within My Gospels. Love your enemy, do good to those who persecute you, die to self and you shall find true Peace, true strength, for the Peace that surpasses all understanding is found within My Love.

I Love you, My people, and I say turn away from the things of lucifer. Do not think that you can find Me in the ways of this world for I am not of this world; this world hates Me and My Ways. I Love you.

Patrick:

Thank You, Jesus, I love You.

Masonic Lodge

Interestingly, in this same article, thanks was given to the members of Hazaran Masonic Lodge who have supported the development of complementary therapies by funding three therapy beds for the new area called Finding Space where the treatment rooms are!!! Like...Hello!?! The Masons have been trying to destroy the Catholic Church for centuries!!!

All about self

Why has the original Christian ethos of the Hospice, named after the foster father of Jesus (to care for the suffering and dying "in the disease-ridden east end of London...a place for them where they could die in peace"), been sold out in favour of the Eastern philosophies which are all about self and nothing to do with Jesus and Christianity? What ever happened to preparing for death by praying the Divine Mercy Chaplet, the Sacrament of Confessions, the Sacrament for the Sick, especially in a so-called "Catholic" hospice, set up by the Sisters of Charity? Why do Catholics turn to Eastern 'self' philosophies and theories when we have such a wealth within our own Church, given to us by Jesus our Saviour - the Ultimate Healer, the Great Physician - whose Teaching was based upon the Wisdom of dying to self?

The Gospel

The beautiful Teachings of the Catholic Church based on the Gospel (feed the hungry; give drink to the thirsty; clothe the naked; harbour the harbourless; visit the sick; comfort the afflicted...), were taken on by the faithful who built hospitals and schools and, in so doing, they spread the faith.

Caring for the sick and dying is our Christian duty and our example is 'the Good Samaritan' and also the Parable Jesus told us in Matthew 25 "...I was hungry and you gave Me to eat; I was thirsty and you gave Me to drink; I was a stranger and you took Me in; naked and you covered Me; sick and you visited Me; I was in prison and you came to Me..."

Mary Aikenhead

The Foundress of the Sisters of Charity, Mother Mary Aikenhead - whose congregation established Saint Joseph's Hospice - knew sickness, poverty and hardship growing up. She was born in Cork in 1858. She led an active life of charity and felt called to the religious life. She looked for an order to enter which was devoted to outside charitable work but found none as all the nuns were resitricted to the enclosure of the convent and didn't go outside. The Archbishop of Dublin then chose her to found a congregation of the Sisters of Charity in Ireland. And this is when nuns became nurses in hospitals in Ireland.

Mary Aikenhead's heart was a fire of love and this fire burned her whole life which was a life of service, just like her Master, Jesus. It was love of Jesus in the poor which brought about this Hospice, erected for the poor who suffered and died in the disease-ridden east end of London, a place for them to die in peace.

Fire of love

As the Sisters of Charity's numbers have reduced, so has that love of Jesus for the poor, that fire of love has died in favour of the world and in favour of self. At Saint Joseph's Hospice, the Teachings of the Church have been reduced and changed so much that it is no longer recognisable as Catholic, it now looks more like a Chinese medical clinic. This is so sad.

It is now up to us, Jesus' 'Army of Little Souls' to light that fire once again. The beautiful Teachings of the Church are still there, they will never die - Jesus is the same yesterday, today and forever - they just need to be brought out into the light once again.

Catechism

Down through the centuries, our beautiful Church, wrought out of the very Blood of Jesus, and steeped in His Grace, has been perfecting how to live the Gospels and accumulated knowledge from the Saints to provide us with guidance on how to love and gain our place in Heaven. Our Catechism is one such source and, on caring for the dying, it encourages the prayer of relatives and the Sacraments as preparation for death.

"2299 The dying should be given attention and care to help them live their last moments in dignity and peace. They will be helped by the prayer of their relatives, who must see to it that the sick receive at the proper time the Sacraments that prepare them to meet the living God."

Euthanasia

In the "Pontifical Academy for Life, Respect for the Dignity of the Dying" it tells us if the sick person is in the presence of "a loving human and Christian presence" it prevents depression and anguish which could provoke thoughts of euthanasia in the sick person. It says that religious assistance is a "precious help" and

"transfigures pain into an act of redemptive love, and death into openness to life in God."

Therefore I am deeply concerned that this hospice is turning to alternative therapies rather than to Jesus in their care for the sick and dying. It has sadly mistaken what is a help and what is a hindrance.

Catholic Health Care

John Paul met with some leaders of Catholic Health Care in 1987 during his visit to America and Canada. In his address to them, he called their work a vocation and a witness to the presence of Heaven in the world. He reminded them care work was "pioneered and developed by congregations of women religious and by congregations of brothers." He spoke of the healing Power of Jesus, who proved in the Gospels to be a Friend of the sick. John Paul also warned the leaders of Catholic Health Care that just because the religious vocations have lessened, it doesn't mean that the spiritual atmosphere lessens with it!

"...The presence of dedicated women and men religious in hospitals and nursing homes has ensured in the past, and continues to ensure in the present, that spiritual dimension so characteristic of Catholic health care centres. The reduced number of religious and new forms of ownership and management should not lead to a loss of a spiritual atmosphere, or to a loss of a sense of vocation in caring for the sick. This is an area in which the Catholic laity, at all levels of health care, have an opportunity to manifest the depth of their faith and to play their own specific part in the Church's mission of evangelization and service.

As I have said, Catholic health care must always be carried out within the framework of the Church's saving mission. This mission she has received from her divine Founder, and she has accomplished it down through the ages with the help of the Holy Spirit who guides her into the fullness of truth. Your ministry therefore must also reflect the mission of the Church as the teacher of moral truth, especially in regard to the new frontiers of scientific research and technological achievement. Here too you face great challenges and opportunities..."

Play our part

In this address, John Paul captures the beautiful essence of what Jesus laid down in His Church, our Christian calling, our vocation, our responsibility to love, evangelise and serve. And, as John Paul recognises the "reduced number of religious," he still calls us, the laity, to play our part in creating a spiritual atmosphere for the sick and dying.

Mother Teresa

Mother Teresa of Calcutta would be our best example of caring for the sick and dying in these days. She worked in Calcutta, a dangerous place for Catholics because it is a minority religion, but God was not pushed to the side, He was still brought to the people in their own religions.

"...Those brought to the home received medical attention and were afforded the opportunity to die with dignity, according to the rituals of their faith; Muslims were read the Quran, Hindus received water from the Ganges and Catholics received the Last Rites. 'A beautiful death,' she said, 'is for people who lived like animals to die like angels—loved and wanted.'..." http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Mother_Teresa

The way to go

A spiritual atmosphere reigned in the Home for the Dying, all were made welcome, everyone was loved, God was respected by all the different faiths, and the sisters swelled in numbers and the Homes grew and spread all over the world. By this, we can clearly conclude, this is the way to go, to embrace God, and not kick Him out; no matter about the politics, the opposition, the danger - God must simply come first.

Lucifer's Hospice

Somewhere, somehow, Saint Joseph's Hospice has went off the rails. It is no longer Catholic. Its introduction to alternative therapies are a slap in the face and an insult to Saint Joseph and everything Christian! It should either change its name to lucifer's Hospice or return to the inspiring roots of that fire Mary Aitkenhead lit it with: living the Gospel, faith in Divine Providence, joyful service for the poor, advocate for the weak and afire with Justice - or, just simply, Jesus!

My True Vine

Extract from 'A Fountain of Truth.'

In These Times

In these times that we live in, we can see becoming more apparent the Truth of the Messages that Jesus and Mary have given to this world. They have told us of the great apostasies that would happen within our time if we did not turn away from our sin. We are told this through the Messages of La Salette, Fatima, Garabandal, the Messages of Love and countless other Messages. How many Warnings does Heaven have to give us before we will listen? In these times we want to change the Laws of God.

We want the Church to die to itself to suit our selfish lives, whereas Jesus has told us it is we who must change; we, who say that we follow Him. Are we but fooling ourselves? If we truly looked within our hearts, what would we find? Is Jesus first, or do we slot Him in so that we can salve our conscience when we know we do not live the Truth? Are we a part of what Our Lady has told us? Are we a part of the apostasy of these times? Are we willing to put our lives on the line for Jesus? Are we too worried as to what our neighbour will think?

There are many questions that only we ourselves can answer. We must look for the Truth for He tells us, "... I am Coming soon..." And that He will come like a thief in the night. How would He find me, if He came now? Would He say, well done good and faithful servant, or go, depart, I never knew you?

The church today

These words are so true and you may have read in last month's Newsletter the Messages of La Salette, Fatima and Garabandal which Warned about what is going on in the Church today. It is very hurtful to see how it is being slowly destroyed by lucifer, who uses those within the Church to tear it apart. In the Messages of Love Jesus has Warned us of these things; "...There are those within My Church that prepare to tear the very foundations of it apart. What you have seen thus far is nothing to what is to come. My Remnant Church knows of these plans and will stay firm and guide My little flock through..." Tuesday 21 August 2007. Following Jesus is the safest path we can take and which will only lead us to Eternal Life but lucifer is the father of lies and yet everyone seems to be following him. How can we be so blind, to not see what he is doing. Jesus has said that "...Times are coming when much sorrow and weeping will prevail in your land. What is happening now will become worse. Many will die at the hands of the people who work for satan.¹

¹ These are the people who are his henchmen and are already prepared for what is to come. They will stop at nothing to take us away from Jesus."

His Gift

What we must not forget is that Jesus created the Church and it is His Bride. It is His Gift to us, given out of His great Love for us. He has given us the seven Sacraments through the Church: Baptism, Eucharist, Confirmation, Matrimony, Confession, Holy Orders and Anointing of the Sick. These Sacraments are our saving Grace when used in conjunction with our faith.

Destroyed from within

Our beautiful Church is being destroyed from within by selfish people who want to change everything God has laid down for us. In a Message given by Jesus in 1994 He said "...My sons and My daughters are walking freely away from My Body because the doctrines that are being taught there are not My Doctrines and the call of the evil one seems greater and louder because, My children, your voices have been silenced by your complacency. Wake up and see what is happening, My children. I have left you the legacy of saving souls. All of you who are baptised into My Love are called to shout loud the Truth which belongs to My Father..." Sunday 7 August 1994

And "...The Church is like a palace that needs many guards to keep out its enemies. When it is guarded well then that palace is safe but if these guards fail to do their work then it is put in danger.

In the case of My Church the danger has escalated and has overrun it. So much within My Body has been committed to self that there is little of Me there now. Like the palace that was left unguarded and allowed many enemies to crawl in unnoticed into it, My Church has become corroded with things that should not be there. Within it there is much self even though I asked that all who follow Me would die to self. There is much accumulated wealth even though I asked all within My Church to become like servants. Does a servant have many riches?..." Monday 10 November 1997

There are many people out there who love the Church and can see what is happening but feel that they are unable to do anything. Jesus asks us to persevere until He Comes because He will renew His Bride, the Church, and it will rise more triumphant and victorious than before. He reassures us in Scripture; "And I say to thee: That thou art Peter; and upon this rock I will build My Church and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it." Matthew 16:18.

And also in the Messages of Love He says: "...My true Church still lives on and the gates of hell shall never overcome it. It shall rise from the ashes like the bird of legend² and shine its light to the four corners of this earth and all evil shall be destroyed in its radiance. Remember, mankind, you are but dust and unto dust you shall return, your lives are but a heartbeat in the annals of time, use them wisely and gain your place in My Kingdom. I Love you..." Wednesday 30 January 2008

Jesus has the Victory. We are on the winning side.

Gods Plan

I came across this lovely piece of writing on the internet which explains how God set up His Church and its purpose.

The Pillar and Ground of the Truth

by Wayne Greeson

Before the beginning of this world God prepared a Plan. Within that eternal purpose God designed His Kingdom, the Church, which would display to the Powers of Heaven, His Divine Wisdom (Ephesians 3:10-11).

Through the Old Testament, God promised by His Prophets to set up His Eternal Kingdom of Peace which would never be destroyed (cf. Daniel 2:44; Isaiah 2:1-4). In the New Testament, Jesus began His public ministry proclaiming, "The time is fulfilled, and the Kingdom of God is at hand" (Mark 1:15). Jesus promised to build this Kingdom which would be His Church (Matthew 16:18-19).

This long planned and awaited promise became a reality on the first Pentecost after Christ's Resurrection. On that day the Kingdom of God, the Church of Jesus Christ, was established as those who obeyed the instruction of Peter to repent and be Baptized were added to the Church (Acts 2:36, 47). The Church of Christ was and is built upon the immovable Foundation of Jesus Christ (1 Corinthians 3:11). It is a special body of people belonging to Christ, the Head of this Divine institution. In this relationship the Church is the Glory and fullness of Christ (Ephesians 1:23; 3:21). To this special body, Christ has given a special work of universal scope and everlasting consequence. The Church is to be the "pillar and ground of the Truth" (1 Timothy 3:15). The Church is to support and uphold the Eternal Truth of Gods Word in everything it is and does.

But how is the Church to carry out this Heavenly mission? The Church has not been left to stumble in the dark. The God of Heaven and earth revealed to His Apostles and Prophets His complete and final Will to men (Ephesians 3:1-5; 2 Timothy 3:16-17). "His Divine Power has granted to us everything pertaining to life and godliness," (2 Peter 1:3), leaving the Church a perfect pattern to follow in all it does (Colossians 3:17; 2 Timothy 1:3). This pattern is not to be altered, added to, or diminished from (Revelations 22:18-19; Galatians 1:6-10).

The work of the Church in upholding the Truth, according to Gods pattern, is three-fold: evangelism, edification and benevolence. Evangelism involves preaching the Gospel of Salvation to those lost in sin. Edification refers to the work of teaching and building up those who are members of the Church. Benevolence is the work of the Church in relieving destitute Christians (cf. 1 Thessalonians 1:8; Ephesians 4:12-16; Romans 15:26-27). Since God has given the Church a complete pattern in His Word for the work of the Church, then it naturally follows that He has thoroughly equipped His Church to do everything He has Commanded it to do. His Church is all sufficient to perform its work of evangelism, edification and benevolence. Jesus "gave Gifts for the equipping of the Saints for the work of service, to the building up of the Body of Christ" which will bring us "to a mature man, the measure of the stature which belongs to the fullness of Christ" (Ephesians 4:8-13). There is absolutely no room for human "wisdom," "organizations" or "improvements" to supplement any aspect of the Work of the Church. Unfortunately, there are those in the Body of Christ who may make a claim to believe in the all sufficiency of the Church, yet manifest contrary actions (cf. Matthew 7:15-20). Some churches contribute money to organizations to do the Work God has given them to do. They make a mockery of Christ's provisions for His Church. The Church has been hacked to pieces by those who have distributed the Church's work to missionary societies, benevolent institutions, schools and colleges. These human organizations are not built upon the Foundation of Christ nor are they charged with upholding the Truth as is the Church. When the Church distributes its work to human organizations it has repudiated the Eternal Divine Wisdom and Planning of God and destroyed the Glory and fullness of Christ. In the New Testament, local churches did their own work of evangelism, edification and benevolence without human organizations or schemes. In evangelism they supported preachers directly rather than making contributions "missionary societies" (Philippians 4:14-18). In the work of edification and benevolence, churches never sent money to colleges or benevolent organizations, but carried out this work within the local congregation and under its oversight (1 Corinthians 14:26; Hebrews 10:24-25; Acts 6:1-6; 11:27-30). Let us recognize and return to the beauty, simplicity, wisdom, glory and perfection of Gods Pillar and Ground of the Truth. <http://www.padfield.com/1997/pillar.html>

Guide us to Heaven

The Church is a beautiful establishment of God. It is there to guide us to Heaven. It is beautiful and real in its Truth and it is to this Church that Jesus will be returning. It is suffering from human interference and intelligence which does not understand the spiritual. As Jesus said on Sunday 5 January 2003, "...Many interpretations have been put on My Words, even in My Scripture. Look at it, My children. If I was not saying the things that are laid down in Scripture then I have lied to you. When I was on the earth, I spoke many things that were recorded so that you could know what I said and what I meant. If anyone changes those Words then what I have said becomes obscured and the Truth is not known. By not knowing the Truth of what I have said, because of the changes, then you do not know what the Truth is. I have chosen many in this generation to speak the Truth because there have been so many changes and interpretations to what I have said that the Truth is watered down. Many things that are said of Me are not truth and to find out what the Truth is you must first know what I have Taught. All things must be based on that Teaching. If it is not then how can you be sure that it is the Truth? With these Words I place Truth within the untruth. If you set up scales, you must balance one side with the other to obtain the correct weight of something. If you place My Truth at one side and you balance up the untruth then you will see the difference. So much blindness in this world! And that blindness is all against Me. You will see, if you look, that many things that were once Mine have now been removed..."

Tears they are crying

We can see how much Jesus and Mary love the Church in the Tears they are crying for it in these times. It is up to all of us, the members of the Body, to protect the Church, to live its Laws of Truth and Justice, to build it up again with our truth and with our Faith in what Jesus left to us. Read this Message and see what Jesus needs us to do.

MY TRUE VINE GREW AND BECAME STRONG

...My sons, I Love you. Come now and let Me tell you a story of My Love. I have sent many servants into this world. I sent them to proclaim the Good News of My Father's Love. Many of them fought fiercely to bring this Love to all nations. Many did not listen and took this Love and began to use it for their own selfish reasons. They did not accept the Love that was given but they took it for themselves. They used it to draw many of My children away from the True Path, that I, Myself, set for My people. They split away from the True Vine. Then, in turn, this offshoot learned much about My Father's Love and saw its Power. They became selfish and wanted to possess this Love for themselves so they began to split and divide among themselves and could not agree and so lost sight of what they had been given. They became selfish and full of pride and believed that they were right in all things. This pride they have remained in. My True Vine grew and became strong and many kept the Law of Love. Then, one day, the Law of Love was broken in a meeting which was held in secret. Those who were My servants saw that there was much to gain from this Love. They saw that they could gain much power and wealth by using it for their own means. They, too, became full of pride and began to change the Law of Love for their own personal gain and all the time none could see that there was a great darkness who was using them for his own gain. This darkness is lucifer, My children, and he has all but extinguished the Law of Love. Then I sent many servants into the world once more to Warn My people but these too saw that there was much to gain and used My Love to gain material wealth and became great in the sight of man. Then I looked upon this earth in My Anger and saw what men had done with the precious Gift that I had given to them, through My very Blood. So, I raised two and placed My Love in them. I held them close to My Heart and gave them many Teachings that the world could not accept in its blindness. These I Instructed in the Ways of Love and told them to gather an Army of Truth that would fight against the darkness that had attacked the Vine. You, My children, are this Army. You must be disciplined in the Ways of Love for it will be you who rebuilds My Church. It will be you who conquers this darkness for I can depend on none other. Will you do this for Me, My children...? Sunday 17 May 1998

MY CHURCH IS LIKE A BEAUTIFUL TREE

Wednesday
19 August 1998

Look, children, look at My Church. Can you not see the cancer that has spread through it? Will you continue to accept the lies that are being told to you? Be a people that will not accept lies then you will live in the Truth. Do not listen to the lies anymore for My Sake. My Church is like a beautiful tree. Its branches reached to the sky and its leaves glistened and provided shelter for all who needed it. Then the virus of freemasonry came, unseen, and infiltrated it. Now its growth is stunted and not many leaves grow there to catch the sunlight to provide food. Running sores have broken out upon it as a result of the self that has been allowed to run through it. My children, if you wish to hear the Truth that I provide through My true priests then do not listen to those who deliberately change My Laws. It has come to the point in time where you must not be tainted with the lies of priests, nuns, cardinals and bishops. You must not listen to them. Find only true shepherds who do not lie to you, who do not sow darnel in the good wheat for soon you will not know which is a lie and which is the Truth. Already many of My children do not know the Truth. You must leave the churches that change the Truth for the evil one has placed an upsurge of the lies so that many more will fall. Seek out only the Truth before you, too, starve and die. Many of My little ones feel the pain of untruth. I tell you that when you hear the Truth being preached from your altars then you will know a true priest. When you hear something different then leave that place for you will only fall into the trap. Shake the dust from your shoes as you leave for I tell you: it will go better for Sodom than it will for that place! Woe to you who tell lies about Me! Woe to you cardinals and bishops and priests and nuns who spread your errors and lead My children astray! Your place in hell is assured. I am calling all of My children away from you so that you starve and drown in your own lies. Woe to you who do not believe in My Truths of My Body, My Blood, My Soul and My Divinity! Woe to you theologians who change My Words! I place a millstone around your neck from this day forward and when I Come I shall know you for the hypocrite that you are. Children of Truth, I begin this day an exodus away from the great lie. All who listen this day will be saved. I call all My true children away from these teachings that cause you pain. I tell you that a cardinal or bishop or priest who does not preach the Truth then he is not to be followed. Come away from them, do not stay and lose your soul with them. Jesus gave this Message about an hour later. Children, I have asked of you to begin a great exodus. I do not play games. I am calling you away from a false church and I am bringing you back to a true Church, My true Church. Do not be alarmed at these Words that I give you for it is the time. It is the time to prepare to move away from all that is not Truth, it is time to love your brothers and sisters in Truth. It is the time of Truth. I call upon you, My Army, to find priests and cardinals and bishops who speak the Truth and I ask you to travel to them and hear only their words. Hear only what My John Paul says through them. Many will look incredulously at My Words but I tell you it is the Truth. If you do not come now, as I led My people Israel from Egypt, then you will be left behind. I give the world this Warning. Spread these Words quickly for they are Good News and they are a sign that I am almost with you. I am near.

27 November 2006

Be prepared, My children, to take up your cross and follow Me for you are entering the time of My Passion once again. My Church will be crucified and seem as though it is dead but it will rise again stronger and in My Glory. Hold on to the teachings that I have already given to you and do not listen to the new-age thinkers for they are not of Me; they are caught up in the lies of lucifer. Soon now you shall see the changes take place within My Church. These will be changes that will be unmistakable and those that have held on to My Truth will know they are not of Me. But if you have listened to the new doctrines then you too shall be swept away in the tide of darkness that is sweeping over My Church. Be prepared, My children, to hold on to My Truth, even though all go against you as all went against Me. Be prepared to be crucified for My Name; be prepared to be excommunicated because of My Truth. I have already told you of this time within My Scriptures, I have already told you these things through My Prophets, Visionaries and Seers. Why then do you find it so difficult to believe now that the time is upon you? Look around you, My children, and see the Words that I speak, they are Truth; open your eyes and see the changes that are already taking place. Look at the beliefs within My Church that I have not spoken of within My Scriptures. Look at all the spiritualism that does not contain Me, that takes place within My believers. Eastern spiritualism¹ is not of Me but of the lies of lucifer. I am the Way, the Truth and the Life, anyone who believes in Me shall come to My Father through Me for I am the Gate to My Father's Kingdom. These false beliefs only bring you to self and the belief in self and what self can do. Whereas, I say, you must die to self in order to receive the Gifts of My Holy Spirit. You desire to take shortcuts; these shortcuts will only lead you away from Me and not to Me. Wake up, My children, and see the Truth of these Words that I speak for time is short now and you have not prepared. I Love you, My children, and I speak these Words in Warning so that you will have the chance to know Me and love Me as I have Loved you. Come back to Me now before it is too late. I, your Jesus, Love you. ¹ Reiki, Yoga, Aromatherapy, Indian Head Massage, Enneagrams, Feng Shui, Homeopathy, Crystalology, acupuncture, transadental meditation, channelling, depth psychology, karma, positive thinking, astrology (reading your stars), etc. More examples of Eastern Spiritualism can be found on 'Jesus Christ - the Bearer of the Water of Life', a Christian reflection on the "New Age" published by the Vatican.

Events to Come

Life in the Spirit Seminars

Our annual Life in the Spirit Seminars began on Wednesday 28 April 2010, as part of our Wednesday night Prayer Meeting (8.30pm).

In these times where the calls of the world are so strong, and increasing every day, we all need to have the Holy Spirit guiding our lives so as we do not fall into the devil's traps. The Life in the Spirit Seminars provide us with a course in prayer and Bible study to help us to understand more the Gifts of the Spirit and how to use them in our everyday lives. Each week there is a different subject to reflect on and you are sent home with a week's "homework" which involves a small bit of studying passages from Scripture which is linked to the week's subject.

On Pentecost Sunday all those who have taken part in the Seminars will be Baptised in the Spirit when we are renewed in the Holy Spirit which we all received at Confirmation. The Seminars are a great tool to help us on our own personal Journeys towards Jesus.

Ascension Thursday 13 May 2010

50 And He led them out as far as Bethania: and lifting up His Hands, He Blessed them.

51 And it came to pass, whilst He Blessed them, He departed from them, and was carried up to Heaven.

52 And they adoring went back into Jerusalem with great joy.

53 And they were always in the temple, praising and blessing God. Amen.

Luke 24:50-53

Jesus' Mission on earth was complete and He returned to Heaven to reign at the right Hand of the Father. We pray for the day that His Kingdom of Heaven and earth will be as one.

Our Day of Prayer begins at 12 noon.

Sunday 16 May 2010
The House of Prayer will be closed for a private retreat.

Pentecost Sunday 23 May 2010

"My children, it is I, your Lord, who speaks with you. I come this Day to tell you that I Love you and this Day I Breathe My Spirit upon you. It is good to give you the Gift of My Holy Spirit, in the hope that you will go out and make disciples of all nations. I empower you with My Love. Look, My children, behold the Wounds in My Hands and My Side; blessed are you because you can see in Faith; but more blessed are you when you do My Father's Will with the Gifts that you have been given. Do not be lax, My children, but let the Power of My Holy Spirit flood into you and I will indeed make you fishers of men." Sunday 26 May 1996 Pentecost Sunday

We invite you to come and join us on this Day of Prayer to renew the great Gift of the Holy Spirit in our lives. We have received the Holy Spirit on the day of our Confirmations but so many of us fail to allow Him to touch and guide our lives to help us on the Journey towards Jesus. Prayers begin at 3pm and will include a blessing with the Holy Oil given by Jesus.

A Few Seats Remaining

Garabandal Pilgrimage 2010

3-15 June 2010

Includes: two nights in Paray le Monial, two nights in La Salette, one night in Lourdes, four nights in Garabandal (option of staying in Garabandal or Soledad House of Prayer) and one night in Saint Maximilian House of Prayer in France.

The group will travel by minibus from the Sacred Heart House of Prayer, driving through England to Portsmouth for the ferry to France.

This will be a non profit, true pilgrimage for Jesus.

For those staying in Soledad House of Prayer, the pilgrimage will cost £485/€530

For those staying in Lucia's boarding house, Garabandal, £585 /€645

The cost of the pilgrimage is based on a group of ten. If we have more people going, a reduction can be offered. For further information, or a copy of the itinerary, please contact the Sacred Heart House of Prayer.

Important!

Manning the other Houses of Prayer - Help Needed!

Jesus has asked that the other Houses of Prayer are manned now because they are needed. There are five Houses that need manned. We simply do not have enough servants to do this so we are asking any of you who can, to please volunteer to man a House for one month with a servant.

This is a great giving and it is something that Jesus wants. Please, if you are available, contact us here at the Sacred Heart House of Prayer. Thank you all and God Bless you.

BLIND BARTIMAEUS

MR WILLIAM J. DUNCAN

Blind Bartimaeus, ignored and alone,
Sat by the roadside; the streets were his home.
"Alms for the blind," he repeatedly said,
As he begged for the coins for his daily bread.

A man walked by and shook his head
At the sight of the beggar and the life that he led.
What kind of sin could his parents have done
To be cursed by God with such a son?

Is the blind man now paying his parent's price
By living in darkness all of his life?
No one to help him, no family, no wife,
He depends now on others for his very life.

And suddenly, the sound of a crowd drawing near.
"What is that noise and shouting I hear?"
Said blind Bartimaeus to anyone near.
That the crowd would pass by him was his only fear.

A voice from the crowd said in reply,
"Jesus of Nazareth is passing by."
"Jesus of Nazareth," Bartimaeus cried out,
"Son of David, have pity," he began to shout.

"Be still and be quiet," responded a few
"Don't bother the Master for the likes of you!"
Bartimaeus ignored them and repeated his plea.
"Jesus, Son of David, have pity," he began to shout.

Jesus stopped walking and answered his plea.
"Call him and tell him to come to Me."
Bartimaeus came forward at the news of His call,
Not fearing to stumble, not fearing to fall.

"What do you want Me to do for you?"
Jesus inquired, but He already knew.
"Master, I want to see," Bartimaeus replies,
And Jesus immediately opened his eyes.

"Your faith has saved you, now go your way,"
But Bartimaeus would follow Him all of that day,
Giving glory to God for the gift of his sight,
Freed now from darkness, he now saw the Light.
