

Two year old girl, Yue Yue, who died after being

IGNORED BY EIGHTEEN PASSERS-BY after hit and run incident

"...YET, MAN'S BLIND INDIFFERENCE DOES NOT CARE..."

TUESDAY 24 AUGUST 1999

Man's blind indifference

Front cover

The front cover of this month's Newsletter is a pictorial of how a little two year old girl called Yue Yue died on 21 October 2011 after a hit and run accident. The death of a little girl is bad enough but the indifference that was shown to her was what has shocked the world the most. Eighteen people walked past her as she lay on the ground having been driven over! What has the world come to? On Tuesday 8 September 1998, Jesus said: "... Soon you will see many swept away on a wave of indifference to Me..." but could any of us have imagined that our hearts would go so icy cold that we would pass by even a little two year old girl who had just been run over twice by a van? Of all the members of our society, a little two year old girl would be the most approachable. If no help is given to her what chance has anyone else?

Theme

That indifference seems to be the theme that has emerged when putting this Newsletter together. We can look at the world and think what a horrible place it has become but, as Christians, our job is to do something about it, to allow Jesus to bring Light to the darkness.

We may not be able to change China but we can definitely change ourselves!

We need to go inside and look at ourselves, asking the question: am I blind to the needs of others? Am I any better than those eighteen passers-by?

The darkness seems to outweigh the light in these days but, remember, when we are with Jesus, We can shine; when we speak of Jesus, Jesus can shine His Light and so the darkness is no more.

The Messages

Jesus continues this month Teaching us in the Way of Truth. He speaks of the anchor point from which we can all begin this Journey with Him. From this anchor point, we build and feed the fire of our self dying.

Appeal

Thank you all so much for your generous help both spiritual and financial. We are so grateful. However, we still have to continue to appeal for your prayers and support. Please help in whatever way you can.

SonLight go to London

As promised last month, we have published more on SonLight's concert in September at the Sacred Heart House of Prayer. With the help of Jesus, SonLight will be playing in Tottenham, London, in the beginning of December. If you are interested in attending, please get in touch and we will give you more details.

Pawns in the Game

We have put extracts from a book, 'Pawns in the Game,' in this Newsletter.

People ask us what we think of free masonry, this book says quite a lot.

Events

The Weekend with the Patricks features in this month's events celebrated. This was a fantastic weekend and we all learned so much. Thank You, Jesus, for your Teaching through the two Patricks.

The Messages of Love

Sunday 30 October 2011

Children of this world, how do I make you understand? How do I make you see? I stand here as the Gate but you do not wish to see Me, you only wish to see what you wish to see.

I am the Gate: I am open for you to walk freely in and out but you only wish to see and hear the thief and the brigand. My Way is open, theirs is closed. I lay down My Life for My sheep so that they are safe. The thief and the brigand do not.

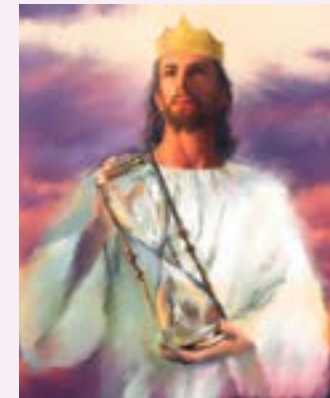

Every day, you see Me less; every day you give Me less. You take My Words and you trample upon them, you change them, you spit them from your mouths like rotten food.

Embrace Me now, children, embrace these Arms that reach out to you. The clock of time is wound up tight and soon it will begin to unwind. I tell you the Truth: it will unwind very quickly, more quickly than you have thought.

I told you of things that were being done in secret: I Warned you of these.

Now, those secret things are here and it will go hard for you because you did not wish to see. You did not wish to see the way the world pushed Me aside in favour of stone gods: you did not wish to see or hear the blood spilled on the earth as it cried out to Me.

You did not wish to hear of My Justice that would come on the earth, you did not wish to change from the lie you live to the Truth.

I tell you, children, the Lord will exact His Justice. You fill your bodies with food as you should to keep you alive but you do not hear My Word, as you should, to keep your soul alive. The soul withers within you for lack of spiritual food. Feed your souls, My children, lest they perish!

Look to the One who Saves!

Look to the One who was raised on a Cross! Look and be healed.

Look to the One who Loves incessantly.

My Love remains the same: yesterday, today and forever.

Sunday 30 October 2011 On the progress of the Houses of Prayer

I am happy with the progress of some of My Houses, I feel Joy in your giving to Me. I can only progress in the same measure as you progress. When they are ready, I will be ready to bring My children to them.

As a river begins with a tiny trickle then, by the time it reaches the sea, it has become a mighty torrent, so shall it be with My Houses. How it will appease the Pain in My Heart to see My children process through the doors of My Houses: safe refuges, great lights shining in the darkness; Love and Light come to earth and welcomed! More is to come. Progress, too, in your hearts towards Me, children, and I will bring all this to bear.

Friday 14 October 2011

Patrick:

The more that I go into this Journey with Jesus, the more I begin to see the Truth of His Words. When we allow our bodies to be in control, then we become blinded to the things of the spirit. The Words that Jesus speaks take on a new light, a new understanding. When He says, look at the Truth and see how this world blinds you, I could never fully understand what He meant because I thought I was looking. But now I understand how blind that I have been.

We block Jesus in so many different ways and most of these are small but, we have to remember, many small bricks can build an impenetrable fortress. For instance, one of the greatest blocks is never truly getting to know Jesus. Yes, we go to Mass and say our prayers but we don't think of the real Person, the Person who Suffered and Died for us. Yes, He Breathed and felt Pain, was happy and sad, felt hungry, just the same as each one of us. Jesus is a real Person and He is with us, begging us to see the Truth and turn away from the lies of this world.

Look around, this world does not believe in Jesus. If we mention the Name of Jesus in public, people will laugh at us and look at us as if we had two heads.

Why do we think that is? If people do not believe in Him, why do they react so hostile to His Name? Why do we feel so embarrassed about speaking His Name in public? The truth is that lucifer does all in his power to eradicate the Name of Jesus for, even he, must get down on bended knee when he hears the Name Jesus. It is time to look at the truth: we are in a spiritual battle. Everyone talks about the modern age; the modern age has only been here for fifty or sixty years. lucifer gave man wealth for he knew that this would turn him away from Jesus. When man was poor, he had time to think about and understand his God but, now, man has no time for God for he is too busy trying to make more and more money.

Jesus:

Truth is what I seek, children, from those who follow Me. Unless you die to self, you will never truly see or understand the Truth. The more that you turn away from this world and its ways, the more you will begin to understand My Truth, My Ways.

Clean and dirty water cannot flow from the same pipe but this is the way that you follow Me. You try to follow Me and follow the world! A servant cannot have two masters for you will love one and hate the other. This is why many change My Scriptures and My Laws so that they can say that they are following Me but all the time they are following the lies of lucifer in this world.

Open your hearts, My little ones, and begin to deny self. Remember, "...need and not greed..." is My Way. There are many things that you strive for in this world that you do not need: they are simply greed.

Look at your houses, your cars, your bank accounts, your debts, your lifestyle, how much of this is for Me and how much of it is for greed? Look at the Truth, children, and do not blind yourselves any longer. When you begin to tell yourself the Truth about your own life, it is then and only then, that you can begin this Journey of Love with Me. I ask you to simply look into your lifestyle and see what you can change. Simplify your lives, children, then you will have time to follow in My Footsteps and this world will no longer have a hold over you. I Love you, My little ones, I Love you.

Patrick:

Thank You, Jesus, I love You.

Patrick:

When we follow Jesus, we should always be looking forward to our deaths with great joy in our hearts, the same way we would be looking forward to going on holiday. When we are going on holiday, we prepare for the journey. We make sure everything is in order before we go.

It is the same for when we die, we should be preparing every day for our deaths for we do not know when it will happen and, yes, it could happen in a minute, an hour, a day, a week, a month, or ten, twenty, thirty, forty, fifty, sixty, seventy, eighty years: we do not know so we should always be preparing for that Journey towards Jesus. For that day is the greatest holiday we will ever prepare for, for it will go on for all eternity.

It is time for us to wake up and see the Truth and pull ourselves away from this world and its ways for they are only distractions that keep us away from our preparation of going to Jesus.

Jesus:

Look, My little ones, and see the Truth of these Words: First, I am the Lord, your God, you shall not have strange gods before Me. This world and its ways is a strange God. Come away from the deceit that is like a great fog that sweeps across the face of this earth.

Come into My Light and allow Me to guide you in the Truth so that one day you can enter the Kingdom of My Father where you shall live for all eternity in the Light of Our Love.

Come, My beloved children, and follow My Footsteps on this Path of Truth. I am calling out to you this day, in Love. I Love you.

Patrick:

Thank You, Jesus, I love You.

Patrick:

We must look at the Truth of what Jesus is saying in these Words. He is asking us to cast off the burdens of this world and follow Him in truth. We allow ourselves to be guided by this world, instead of our God. This we do not realise we are doing for we have a tendency to follow whatever the trend is at the time, without thinking about it. We do not want to be the odd one out, we do not want to be the one that stands out in the crowd. So, we fall into line, follow the trends of this world and the trends of this world always lead away from God.

What Jesus is saying in these Words is to break free, stand back and see what is happening around us. See what our lives are becoming, see how we are being led away from the Path that Jesus wants us to travel.

Yes, it is hard for us to open our eyes and see the Truth.

I know I can only speak for myself and Jesus has helped me and shown me the way to control self in order that I can see. It is only through self denial that we can begin to understand the Ways of our God. The more that we deny self, the more we begin to see.

I started this Journey by not eating after six o'clock in the evening or seven, if the meal is late and offering this to Jesus as a sacrifice. The first week or two was very hard for my body cried out for those evening snacks.

Through this, I have begun to understand self denial. Our bodies cry out for things that we do not really need. In order to control self, I have used the rules that Jesus gave: "need and not greed." Through this, I have begun to understand how we allow sin to control our lives. We accept sin and do nothing about it. But, through self-denial, I have found that sin can also be controlled by just simply denying ourselves and not entering into the sin.

Yes, our minds and bodies will complain because sin has become so much a part of our lives. Gossip, anger, lust, greed, blindness, lies, deceit, coveting, judging, these are just a few of the things that we allow into our everyday lives and do not recognise them as sin. But, they are blocks between us and our God.

Jesus wants each one of us to open our eyes and see the Truth: the more the scales fall from our eyes, the more we will understand Him and the more we will see the Path that He wishes to lead us upon. If we are unwilling to shake the baggage of this world off then we shall remain blind to the Truth and wander aimlessly through our lives, never producing good fruit and always wondering what Jesus is talking about and saying things like: Jesus would not want me to deny myself these things: I do nothing wrong, I hurt no one, I follow Jesus the best I can, I simply do my best. But, these are justifications in order to remain in our selfish lifestyles. There is so much more to be had from our lives with Jesus for, the more that we shake off the baggage of this world, the more Jesus is able to fill us with His Peace, His Love and His Understanding, we will begin to see this world in a different light, the more that Jesus is allowed to enter us. The understanding of life will penetrate our hearts and the peace that surpasses all understanding will be allowed to enter our souls which is Jesus. And, yes, we will fall many times on this Journey but we must get up and begin again, immediately. I know that Jesus is using me as an example to help others but I am a very weak person and I do fall many times but I know the greatest desire within my heart is to follow the One whom I love, who is Jesus. He is like an addiction to me. I look forward so much to the day when I will die and be born into New Life in the Kingdom of Our Father.

Jesus:

Come, My beloved children, I hold out My Hand to you in these Words. They are a lifeline that will guide you on to the Path of Truth.

Come, children, I will take you on a Journey that you could never believe possible.

I shall show you the marvels of this world but, first, you must take My Hand and walk this Path with Me so that the scales of this world may fall away from you and My Truth dwell within your hearts.

Come, My beloved children, walk this Path with Me and We, together, shall bring about a great change within this world.

We, together, shall Breathe New Life into the dying and freedom shall be known and seen once again as My Love begins to shine new Light upon this earth.

But, I need you, My children, in order to do this.

I need your willingness to die to yourselves so that you may see My Truth and carry it as a precious stone within your hearts.

I Love you, My beloved children, I Love you and I stand at the door of your heart knocking and waiting for you to open it to Me. I Love you.

Patrick:

Thank You, Jesus, I love You.

Jesus:

Come, look at My Words, My little children.

These are Words of Eternal Life given to you directly from My Heart.

You do not realise how much I care about you, My children.

I have given My All for you so that you could have Life with Me in My Father's Kingdom.

Come, now, My beloved children, and see the Words that I speak.

See how much I will write My Love to you and them.

See how I guide you into the safety of My Fold.

Come, My beloved children, and listen to the calls of My Heart.

Come, I await your response every day and watch and listen for any step you will take towards Me.

Come, beloved children of My Heart, and respond to My calls.

I Love you.

Patrick:

Thank You, Jesus, I love You.

Monday 24 October 2011

Patrick:

I have been fighting now for about six weeks in the way that Jesus has shown me. I feel changes are beginning to happen. It is beginning to get easier to recognise the spirit world. I was working in the yard today and I could feel that there were many there along with me.

I did not know who they were, Jesus? Angels? Saints?

I did not know but I knew that they were from Heaven.

This is beginning to happen quite often now. Even in the wind and rain, all seems to become peaceful. There is a quietness that can only come from Heaven.

Yes, the fight is difficult but the more that I seem to be able to control my humanness and its desires, the more the spirit seems to be coming to the fore.

The way that Jesus showed me how to begin fighting is like starting a fire but, in order for that fire to keep burning, we need to keep adding fuel to it.

He showed me how to begin. I began by not eating from six o'clock in the evening to the next morning and this is the time when I like to have meals and snacks, late in the evening and into the night for I am rarely in bed before two o'clock.

My body cries out for food in the evenings and my mind gives me every good reason why I should eat but, as Jesus says, we eat too much: more than our body needs. This comes back to the rule "need and not greed."

As it became easier not to eat in the evenings, Jesus showed me that I must add fuel to the fire and He said the greatest fuel that we can add is sin. In other words, the list that we take to Confessions with us, we must begin at the top of that list and add each sin in its turn to the fire and no matter how tempted we are to commit that sin we must have the resolve to fight it. This is the fire of self-dying that will consume all darkness: it is our giving, our sacrifice to our Saviour. When the temptations become too much, I have learned to retreat into the quiet place that we all have within our hearts where Jesus resides. I know many will say: "but I cannot find this," but, I tell you, we all can.

Simply close your eyes and feel the place where your heart is, within your body for, this is the place where we feel love and pain. Feel it and let the Peace of Jesus flow freely. Block all thoughts that the mind may throw at you and simply say, "Jesus, I trust in You" and feel for Him. This, He cannot resist and you will feel His Peace.

The more that we do this, the more our souls will begin to waken from the slumber we have placed them in by denying the existence of that Peace through our actions in this world. The more that self is controlled, the easier it becomes to find Jesus and His Peace.

I am beginning to understand what Jesus said about the wheat grain falling into the ground and dying before it produces fruit. The more that we die to ourselves, the stronger the Presence of Jesus becomes within us and the easier it is to see His Ways are not ours.

We must simply look at the Truth and see what Jesus is saying. We cannot produce fruit for His Kingdom when self is in control because, if we were allowed to use His Gifts without dying to this world, then we would use them for self gain: we would produce nothing for the Kingdom of Our Father.

We all have been given the Gifts of the Holy Spirit at Confirmation but they lie dormant within us because we do not resist the calls of self: whatever self desires we are only too happy to provide, if it is within our means. Yes, and even when it is not within our means, we will borrow, deceive and steal to provide for its needs.

So, as Jesus is showing all of us, if we want to be His true followers, we must remove all self and all the blocks that are cluttering the path that allows Him to enter our hearts fully. When we say we can't, this is only a justification that self has learned to use. It is the defence mechanism we have given to ourselves. Yes, it is a fight; it is a great battle for, self will complain every second of every minute of every day until we learn to control its greed, its desire, its selfishness. It is like taming a savage beast: it cannot be done in a matter of days. When self is fully controlled, it will be our friend and will only look to be fulfilled with the Love of Jesus. This must be our goal if we want to be a true follower of Jesus and walk in His Footsteps.

Jesus:

This is My Truth that this world has forgotten. The more that you die to self, the more freedom My Spirit has to Work within you. The more of you that follow this Path, the more freedom I will have to Work among My people.

This is My Battle Cry, children, I call you to war! This war will be fought with the Gifts of My Spirit but those who will use them must do so in Truth. My Love must be given freely to all My people, no matter what they have done or what they have said.

Truth is My Way and I give you this Path so that you will know My Truth.

Wake up now, My children, and come walk with Me and We, together, shall shine into the darkness of this world.

We, together, shall lead many into the realm of My Father's Kingdom.

Come, beloved of My Heart, and answer My call this day.

Come, My beloved children, I await.

Patrick:

Thank You, Jesus, I love You.

Wednesday

Patrick:

If anyone is willing to walk this Path, be sure, now, and know that you will have to work hard for every step that you take. Self will rebel and make every justification in the book in order to break our resolve. It will search for every chink there is in our armour. For instance, if we are fasting and are attacked with temptations, self will say you must eat in order to be strong to fight the temptations but, be warned, if self is able to break us on one part, it will have a domino effect on the rest. So we must resist for our resistance will make us stronger.

All the things that we have thrown upon the fire of dying to self must remain there for if we fail on one then the rest will soon follow after. We must remember that our greatest defence is finding the Peace of Jesus within our hearts. This is where we will become strengthened in order to fulfil this journey. So going to prayer to be with Jesus is very important every day. As Saint Paul has told us, we must remember that we are in a spiritual battle and the evil one will do everything in his power to break us. Again, our only defence against the evil one is Jesus. We must be willing to retreat as soon as we feel temptation come in.

I can understand the piece of Scripture where Jesus said: ...No man putting his hand to the plough and looking back, is fit for the Kingdom of God. Luke 9:62, Douay-Rheims. If any man or woman begins this Journey and looks back, with desire, to his or her old life then he or she is not worthy for they do not truly love Jesus enough to give their free will up for Him as He did for us. If we are willing to walk this Path, Jesus has shown me that we will come to a point where self will fall like a great wall and then we will truly become the instruments of God. We will become empty vessels that God may fill and use to do His Work in this world for, finally, we will see the Truth and our only desire will be to follow the One who fulfils all things in Righteousness and Truth. It is not hard to begin the dying to self: we simply need an anchor point to begin. We need to give up something that we like and offer it as a sacrifice to Jesus. That something could be alcohol, cigarettes, not eating after six, television, or watching our favourite programme on the television or something else that we like. This is our anchor point; it is like the spark that lights the fire, we must get the resolve in our hearts to offer this to Jesus and not break this sacrifice for anything.

When it becomes easy and we are not tempted as much to give up, then we must add another thing to the fire and so on.

Remember, the greatest things that we can add to this fire is sin. Again, I must warn you, when you are tempted to give in to something that you have added to the fire, never break your anchor point for it will be like ripping out the foundations of a great building: it will all collapse. This is a lifetime commitment; this is the plough that Jesus spoke of. Do not enter upon this Path if you are not willing to see it through to the end for you will fall.

It does become easier the further that we travel along the Path as this world relinquishes its hold upon us. The beginning of this Journey is the hardest. At the beginning of this Journey, we will have to fight 'tooth and nail' to stay on the Path.

I want to paint a picture of reality in these words for, if you see that this Journey is hard to begin then you will not become downhearted when you are in it. This is the greatest Journey we will ever undertake within our lives; it will be the Journey that we could never have dreamed of within our wildest dreams. It is the Journey that will lead us to where we will see and feel the marvels of the Kingdom of Our Father: a Journey where human desire has no place but, simply, the desires of our God, our everything.

Jesus:

Look, My little children, I opened the gates to "A Walk With The Truth," to you.

Come, take My Hand and We, together, shall walk this Path.

We, together, shall experience the joys, the pain, the wonders of this Journey.

Walk this Path with Me and you shall understand the meaning of My Words for My Spirit shall flow through you and the scales shall fall from your eyes and the wonders of your God will become clear and, finally, My soldiers will be revealed and the darkness of this world shall be swept aside.

Come, My beloved children, I call out to you this day to walk this Path with Me for I need your hands, your feet and your lips in order to do this Work, in order to spread the Light of My Love into the darkness of this world.

It is only through you, My children, that I can do this for I cannot break the free will of mankind.

It is only when you give Me the freedom to use you that this world will once again see the Power of its God: the blind will see: the lame will walk: the deaf shall hear: the dead shall rise for nothing in all creation can stand against the Power of your God.

Come, My child, take My Hand and begin this Journey

this day as you read these Words for We, together, have much Work to do and there is so little time to do it.

Come, My children, feel the excitement of your God as I call My Warriors of Truth to the fore for We shall sweep the tide of sin aside and this world shall realise that I do exist.

The scientists and scholars of this world will stand confounded. No words shall come from their mouths as they realise how wrong they have been. It is time, children, to show this world that their God is among them and that their lies have not diminished My Power.

Wake up now, you children of this world, for soon My Army shall march and mankind shall know its wrongdoing.

The Warriors of My Light are coming to the fore and you shall beat your breasts for what you have done.

Repent of your evil ways now and return to Me and join My Army of Truth for no evil shall stand against them for the Power of My Truth will cut you down like a mighty sword and you shall fall headlong into the pit if you do not repent of your evilness.

Be Warned, creation, be Warned! Your God has spoken and soon now My Army shall rise. I Love you.

Patrick:

Jesus has asked me to tell you about my experience on this Journey of dying to self so that it will encourage you to walk this Path with Him. I am the worst disaster of an example for trying anything for I have always been a disaster at denying myself!

I can understand the justifications for I have always justified to myself and told myself I was doing well whereas, in reality, I was not. Jesus has shown me on this Path how easy it is to deceive ourselves for a lot of the things within our lives that we believe are necessary are simply habit. Well, I will talk about the greatest pitfall to watch out for, for it could destroy everything that we are trying to offer to Jesus. Pride is the one thing that we must all watch out for, for when we begin this Journey with Jesus, the thoughts will begin to bombard you as they have done me: "Look, I am trying, they are not." This is the evil one trying to break us in the sin of pride.

On this Path with Jesus, we cannot look at anyone else, we cannot judge anyone else; we must simply look at ourselves. We must look at the things that are blocking us from Jesus.

When we begin this Journey, we think that there are not a lot of things to die to but, I can tell you, from my experience, the further that we walk this Path, the more and more that we see and realise how much we place before Him. I can tell you now, from my experience, the first few weeks are the hardest and after that you will get the odd few days that are very difficult but, initially, in the first few weeks, every day, we are battered by self. In my first few weeks, I was battered with thoughts like, "Why should I do this? Nobody else is." I was constantly looking at other people, thinking to myself, "This is very unfair! Look, they are allowed to do what they want, this is all nonsense, I am going to have to do this for the rest of my life." Especially at night, when I could not eat, my mind and stomach would scream at me: "You are not getting enough nourishment, you are going to become sick, Jesus would not want you to do this, this is stupidity, you can eat something small like an apple, just think, you have to do this tomorrow night again, this is stupid!" But, after a few weeks of self crying out, it started to fade.

Yes, every now and then my mind and my stomach do complain but I go and drink a glass of water and it all settles again. I have added quite a few other things to the fire and they all do the same, they all complain but fade and die away for a while. Jesus said to me, we must protect our anchor. My anchor is not eating after six and, about five weeks in, I ate three evenings in a row and I realised everything was about to come tumbling down and the fire would be extinguished. But I realised what was happening, through the Grace of Jesus and started again. For a few days my body and mind complained bitterly; the hunger pangs were horrible but it all settled back down again.

Now I have realised that the anchor point is the most important part of dying to self. If we concentrate on the anchor point, we can constantly throw other things onto the fire and it will seem like nothing. This is why that if you decide to walk this Path, your anchor point must be something that is really strong, something that we really like and find difficult to give up for, when we can overcome it - our anchor - the foundation will be strong and the rest of the things that we give up will be simpler and the Journey will become much easier.

Self is like training a wild animal, it will become used to going without, it will learn to endure hardship and will not complain as loudly. I thought I was going to be unhappy for the rest of my life doing this but I can tell you there is a peace within it. It seems to be the more that we deny self the more at peace we become.

Remember, the evil one will be always trying to break us so do not do things that will make you unhealthy for he will try to trip us up in every way possible. Some people will have addictive personalities and could become addicted to giving the wrong things up. So, we must remember the things that we are giving up in our lives are the blocks, the sins, the things that waste time, like television. Sins like judgement, anger, gossip; we must try to become patient with others and see their point of view rather than always seeing our own.

We must be constantly watching for little situations where we can show love rather than judgement, anger, gossip and pride. We must think, "What would Jesus do in this situation?" And, what He did when there was no love He placed Love and so found Love. These are the Footsteps that we must walk in.

In order to become a Soldier of the Light, we must begin to spread the Love of Jesus like a farmer spreading seeds. Our dying to self is a sacrifice that we can offer to Jesus in order to gain the Graces so that His little seeds of Love will begin to grow within the people that we meet and so they too will begin to show love and sow seeds.

This is what Jesus is talking about when He says, "This earth is parched and dry..." it hungers for the little droplets of Love that He places within us to spread to all mankind. Walk this Journey with Jesus and I can tell you, from my own experience, you will be surprised at what you find. I am surprised and I have not even been walking this Path for two months now. I am beginning to recognise so much about myself, things that I did not know even existed in my life that are unnecessary and, yes, are blocks between me and Jesus. I am finding it easier to listen to Jesus for many things that I blamed the evil one on, was actually myself being lazy and justifying in order for me not to see the truth.

I can see now that we are liars and 99.9% of the lies we tell are to ourselves in order to live our selfish lives. The earth begins to take on a different perspective and it is easier to pray for people because I can see myself in them when they speak to me. I can recognise my own words in what they say. Things like: "I find it very difficult" or "I can't do this in reality." What we are saying is: "I can't be bothered" and "I don't want to do this." But, I can tell you, if you begin this Journey with Jesus, you will find Peace within your heart; the Peace that surpasses all understanding, this will become quite clear to you.

Jesus has said in hundreds of Messages: "I give you My Peace, My little ones," or, "feel My Presence within." I never truly recognised what He was saying but, now, I am beginning to. It is as though my whole life I have been walking through trees looking for a forest and have never realised I am in the forest: that's how blind we are. I am walking this Path for only a short time now and, if you were to ask me what you should do, I would say, come, walk it for you will be shocked at what you find. It is like walking through a door into a new life: a life full of difficulties, just the same as the old one but a life with Peace.

Jesus:

Come, My beloved children, and walk this Path with Me. I can tell you, My son, you have recognised little, you do not know what is before you: the Joys of My Kingdom which the walls of self are a barrier to. When the walls of self fall within you, it will be as though you lived your life in the darkness and have suddenly walked into the light. Trust in Me, children, trust in My Truth. These are not new Words, this is not a new Path, read the Words of My Gospels. This is the Path that My Disciples, My Apostles, have walked before you. Come, My little children, I call you to be My Disciples, I call you to be the Warriors of My Truth so that you can take Me out into this world and show My people that I am Alive in you. Come, beloved of My Heart, I call out to you this day to come, follow Me on this Path of Truth so that you find My Love, My Peace, within your hearts. Allow Me to fill you, My little ones, allow Me to become a part of you, allow this Weary Traveller to find rest within your heart. I Love you.

Patrick:
Thank You, Jesus, I love You.

Patrick:

To follow Jesus, we must be willing to look at each other with open hearts. We must never judge one another, we must never look ill upon one another. We must never wish harm upon another person but we must always treat one another with the Love and respect that Jesus has given to us in the Gift of life.

Truth is what Jesus is looking for from each one of us and, if we say that we are His followers, we must be willing to look at His Truth and spread it to all those that we meet by our actions. People will come to believe in Him through us by our example. We must be willing to use the Gifts of the Spirit in our everyday lives.

Jesus is not looking for supermen and superwomen running round healing and raising people from the dead. He is looking for people who are willing to spread His Love by example.

Yes, Jesus may call upon some to use the greater Gifts but we must not desire them for self's sake, because, if we desire them for this, then we are allowing self to take precedence over Jesus.

We must remember that we are simple tools in a tool box that Jesus may lift out at any time to use. It is not up to us to question why or when. We must be simple, obedient servants of Love. If we are called to pray, if we are called to heal, if we are called to love, if we are called to serve then this is what we must become.

We must be humble in all that we do, never accepting praise for ourselves but always pointing to Jesus who is All. Jesus is our Master and our only desire should be to fill our souls with Him, our only desire should be to break away the shackles of this world and find the freedom of the spirit. If we are willing to do this, Jesus will fill our hearts with His Love, His Truth and sight, the scales will fall from our eyes.

We, the children of God, will be able to see what He is asking of us; no longer shall we live in confusion. We are only confused because we bring it upon ourselves. We have allowed self to have so much control that we can no longer see the Truth of God. We have desired the things of this world and its ways for so long that we have blinded ourselves to the Truth of Jesus.

On this Path that He has set before us, He has taken us by the hand and is coaxing us along this Path so that we may see His Truth and no longer be controlled by the desires of self. The further that we go along this Path, the greater the fire should burn within us; that all-consuming fire that will burn away self.

We must be adding things every day to this fire so that Truth may burn bright within our hearts. Everything that holds us back from Jesus must be consumed in the dying to self; it must become like a great inferno so that this world will see His Light shine from our hearts.

Our eyes will burn bright with the fire of the One who Loves us; people shall know that we are followers of Jesus by our love that will shine forth from our souls.

It goes back to Scripture, where He said that My Father and I shall come and dwell within you. His Light must be allowed to shine from us so that the darkness of this world is consumed in the Light. Truth is what we must be willing to look at: no more justifications for self's sake. Only Truth for Truth's sake.

Jesus must be the All-Consuming Force within us: we must be willing to sacrifice ourselves for Him and His Truth then this world shall know and all sin shall be destroyed by the All-Loving Jesus.

Jesus:
I do not desire that you be controlled by self any longer, My children. I wish to break the shackles of this world from you so that you will be able to walk this earth and see the Truths that I have put within it. So that you will become the beacons of light that will shine My Truth forth into this world. My Army is racing, children, come forward and walk this Path with Me so that you, too, may come to know the Fire of My Love that shall Burn bright within your hearts. Begin, My children, begin to break the shackles of this world: light the Fire of Truth and let it be consumed - that, that has held you back from Me for so long.

I call to you this day, My little ones, to walk this Path. Come, My Warriors of Love,

My Warriors of Truth, My Warriors of the Light, We, together, shall offer much to My Father and He shall be Glorified through My Work in you.

All Glory be to Our Father, who is the Creator of all things and it is He who deserves the Glory. Shine your little light through Me to Him so that He will know that you are My servants and that His Love is spread through Me and so through you out into this world. Come, beloved of My Heart, and let My Love shine this day in you. I Love you.

Appeal

For weeks, we have been feeling the call of Jesus to do, urgently, the things that He needs done. These calls seem overwhelming when faced with the financial burden of all the things that He needs to be done in this world. Asking Him about these things, the answer that He gave is contained in this Message. He speaks of our (the Patricks') fear and lack of faith:

Tuesday 1 November 2011

Patrick:

Jesus, why do I feel these things? They are beyond my understanding of what You want.

Jesus:

My servant, I Love you. I call you in many ways. I call you in the depths of your heart and your heart feels these things. Within you I Am. You feel My Anguish that My children do not listen as they should, you feel the many things that I need to be in place and are not even begun, you feel the Pain that is in Me for the world.

What you feel is the many places that call to you that need what I have given you both; you feel the time as it passes and nothing is done.

Yes, My servant, you feel that you must go and go you must but you are too little to do all of it. What needs to be done, the pile reaches the Heavens. But, I tell you, I, alone, can do all things; the more that you give Me, the more that I can do.

Your heart is open and, because it is open, you feel these things. I will show you where you must go. It is your fear and lack of faith that makes you not see. I Love you.

We, the Patricks, thank you for your prayers and any financial help that you can give us at this time. We place you always in our prayers. May the Most Sacred Heart of Jesus shower you with His Love.

What happens when people no longer care.....

way. And, even more unbelievably, another van ran over her little body as she lay there.

Safety

Finally, a lady who is a street scavenger and the lowest of the low in China's city streets, stepped from the side of the road and pulled the little girl to safety. She didn't stay around too long because

Two year old girl

On the internet recently there was a video uploaded that was taken from CCTV in the Guangfo Hardware Market in Huangqi of Foshan, China, that went viral all over Facebook and Youtube and other video sharing sites. It showed a two year old girl wandering out onto a busy street where she was hit by a van. The driver reversed the van and appeared to look at the child then drove off and on the way ran over the little one's legs. In the next six minutes, eighteen - yes eighteen - people walked past this little girl - one even stepped over her as if she was just something in his these street scavengers are looked down upon and the people would nearly spit on them before speaking to them!!! Finally the little girl's mother appears in the frame and lifts her up. The little one got away from her mum in a hardware store and that's how she came to be wandering out on the road alone.

Horrified!!!

As I watched this scene unfolding before me on my computer screen I was horrified!!! How could this be allowed to happen!!! And where was the child's mother!!!! As a mother of five young children, I am always trying to keep up with them when we are out!

I know how difficult it is to keep tabs on toddlers!! My youngest is a boy of three years old and I always have him in the buggy if we are in the town because I would be terrified of him running on the road as he is of an age where it would be all too possible!! And if he is walking I try to never let him out of my sight!

Run over by a truck

I was horrified at the image of a little tiny body being first of all hit and then run over by a truck. I had tears streaming down my face for the poor wee one and could not comprehend how she could have survived that onslaught on her tiny frame. Then when people were walking around her and not even stopping to see if she was ok!!!! My blood was boiling!!! How could people be so uncaring???? A wee baby lying bruised and broken on the street and people were walking round her as if she was nothing but a piece of rubbish on the road!!! Totally crazy!!!

She sadly died

It was the saddest thing I ever saw in my life. I had to watch it about four times for my brain to take in that it was actually real!!!

The little girl, named Yue Yue, which translates as 'Little Joy' in Chinese, miraculously, was still alive when the ambulance arrived and was critically ill in hospital until she sadly died at 12.32am on 21 October. This story serves to show what can happen when people stop caring about their fellow man. It seems to me that love has grown icy in these times. When a person can't stoop down to help a little girl who lies bleeding on the roadside, what hope is there for mankind?? 'Ah but that's China' I hear you say 'they don't care about their fellow man. That's an atheist country. They've become apathetic and have no morals.'

Did you stop

But I ask you are we guilty of the same thing?? Did you see any homeless people on the street recently? Did you walk past them hurriedly in case they might ask you for money?? Or did you stop to ask them if they were ok?? If you might be able to give them a few pound for a sandwich? Or even just pass the time of day with them?? Or what about that old alcoholic fella that was walking past your house the other day? Or that walked past you when you were coming out of Mass?? Did you run fast to your car for fear he would talk to you or that you might be seen in the same vicinity as him??

Lowest in society

Have we become too good to be seen with the lowest in society?? We need to think what our motives are. If Jesus saw any of these people He would go to them. He spent His time when He was on earth with the lowest in society, the prostitutes, the tax collectors and He didn't let anyone tell Him not to. He stood up for their rights and He accepted them and He simply Loved them. We need to do the same. It's that simple. Love them like Jesus would. And don't worry about what anyone else thinks because, at the end of the day, it only matters what Jesus thinks!!!

Little Yue Yue

The lady who pulled little Yue Yue off the road was a street scavenger. In doing this simple act, she practically took her life in her hands because of the way 'her kind' are looked upon in Chinese society. She was a Good Samaritan of these times. She lifted that little girl off the road and she didn't count the cost of what might happen to her for doing it. In actual fact, she needn't have worried because she has now been hailed as a model of decency in Chinese society!! Chen Xianmei, the Guangdong Foshan ayi (housekeeper or maid) who saved little Yue Yue has been given, by various departments, over 25,000 Renminbi (yuan). She stated that she will give the money to little Yue Yue. She has said over and over that she didn't do it for money she just wanted to 'help a little.'

"Cold hearted"

Of the eighteen "cold hearted" passersby, three have revealed themselves and two of them said they didn't see the child, while the other expressed remorse and guilt. In addition, the driver responsible for hurting little Yue Yue also expressed regret and felt he let down the child's family. The family have not 'pointed the finger' in anyone's direction. The child's mother has blamed herself for not keeping a better eye on little Yue Yue.

Ice in our hearts

The lesson to be learned from all this is that we must begin to thaw out the ice in our hearts and reach out to others and see what they need from us. Lift our heads from our selfish lives and look around and beyond our own 'self' and its needs. You never know what you might see!!!!

CHINESE WOMAN DIES DURING FORCED ABORTION: WAS SIX MONTHS PREGNANT

BY KATHLEEN GILBERT
LIJING COUNTY, Shandong
Province, China,
October 17, 2011
(LifeSiteNews.com)

Forced abortion

A Chinese woman died last week during a forced abortion at six months pregnant, the human rights organizations Women's Rights Without Frontiers and China Aid say they have learned.

According to a report posted on fanfucn.com, Jihong Ma was seized by Family Planning Officials for a forced abortion because she violated the one-child policy. Due to her state of stress, she was placed on oxygen.

Cries looking for Mom

In the words of a family member:

"More than ten persons from the Family Planning Bureau came, took off the oxygen mask from her and forced her to induce labour. From the time she was put into the operating room at 4:00p.m., there was no news about her... At night around 10:00p.m., someone came, opened the door of the delivery room and slipped away. We ran into the delivery room and saw that the doctors and nurses all disappeared while poor Jihong Ma's body had already been totally freezing cold, with purple lips and bleeding nose, lying on the operating table without any movement... Jihong Ma's daughter does not know yet that her Mum has passed away. She cries looking for Mum every day."

Cruel and barbaric

"Our hearts go out to the family of Jihong Ma, who was their wife, mother or daughter," stated Reggie Littlejohn, President of Women's Rights Without Frontiers. "China's cruel and barbaric forced abortion policy causes more violence towards women and girls than any other official policy on earth. It is China's war against women and girls. Women are forcibly aborted up to the ninth month of pregnancy.

Official government rape

"Forced abortion is not a choice. It is official government rape."

Bob Fu, President of China Aid, stated, "Tragedies like this demonstrate the urgent need for China to establish the rule of law.

Family Planning Police commit hideous crimes with impunity, as do those who persecute the house churches and Chinese human rights lawyers."

Bone chilling accounts

A recent report released by Women's Rights Without Frontiers detailed several bone chilling accounts of the brutality experienced by Chinese citizens who fall foul of the one-child policy.

Brutal population control

The report was leaked out of China by a source who requested anonymity for fear of the reprisals that other critics of the one-child policy have been subjected to. It was unveiled at a U.S. Congressional Hearing on the one-child policy, held September 22.

Reports from China have indicated that Chen Guangcheng, the country's most famous opponent of the brutal population control methods, may have been killed after suffering years of imprisonment, torture and harassment.

Dead or alive

"Chen Guangcheng has stood up for victims of forced abortion. He has been jailed, tortured, denied medical treatment, and we don't know whether he is dead or alive," said Fu.

SonLight Concert Pictorial

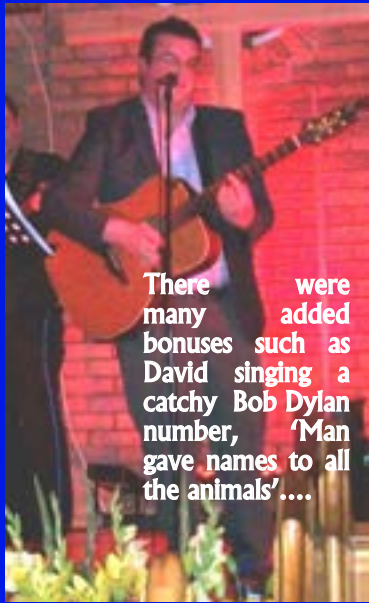

Spearhead

On the Feast of the Sacred Heart 2010, Jesus asked for the new House of Prayer in Belgium. However, another thing Jesus asked for, often forgotten, in this same Message was that His 'SonLight' Music become a 'spearhead' in the promotion of His Love. "...I ask too that My Music becomes a spearhead in the promotion of My Love for see how I send them into the world to represent Me. They can go where others will not and still promote My Words. Help them to do this..." Friday 11 June 2010, Feast of the Most Sacred Heart

Since that time, SonLight have had the privilege of playing at weddings, funerals, Sunday Masses, bars, homes, a garden, a fire house..., and hosted and taken part in several concerts, bringing Jesus to others through song.

Our most recent concert was on Thursday 29 September 2011, we held this concert in the Prayer Room of the Sacred Heart House of Prayer. It was an absolute joy and privilege to be part of. The concert featured many of Jesus' original Songs and kicked off with, 'I don't care' and 'Shine your light.'

There were many added bonuses such as David singing a catchy Bob Dylan number, 'Man gave names to all the animals'....

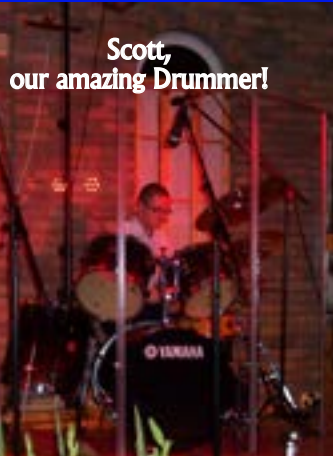

...and special guests. One of whom was Gemma Prince who played an absolutely beautiful harp solo. You could have heard a pin drop. She also played a duet with Aine who is learning the harp.

Fionuala wowed us all with her bluesy number 'Don't you look the other way,' one of Jesus' original Songs.

Another such guest was Mark Casey who rocked the room with his renditions of 'Your Love keeps lifting me higher' and 'John the Revelator.'

Scott, our amazing Drummer!

One of my favourite songs of the evening was Fionuala and Mark's rendition of Amazing Grace, sung to the tune of 'The House of the Rising Sun.'

The entire band.
Thank You, Jesus, for a great night!

There will be a DVD available of this concert soon. If you would like to order the DVD, please contact us here at the House of Prayer. Alternatively, you can view pieces of the concert on YouTube: www.youtube.com/user/invitationlovejesus

pawns in the game

A satanic conspiracy to control the world

by William Guy Carr

First printed in 1954, "Pawns in the Game" is the best single work available on the evil conspiracy that has been responsible for the devastating wars and continuing conflicts of the past century and which is now close to its ultimate goal of total world domination through a dictatorial One World Government.

Pawns in the Game is written by William Guy Carr (1895-1959), a noted author who had a distinguished career as a Canadian naval officer, including outstanding service during World War II. The book begins as follows: (This book is available on the internet.)

Chess tournament

"Here is a TRUE story of international intrigue, romance, corruption, graft, and political assassinations, the like of which has never been written before. It is the story of how different groups or atheistic-materialistic men have played in an international chess tournament to decide which group would win ultimate control of the wealth, natural resources, and man-power of the entire world. It is explained how the game has reached the final stage. The international communists, and the international capitalists, (both of whom have totalitarian ambitions) have temporarily joined hands to defeat Christian-democracy.

Cover

"The cover design shows that all moves made by the international conspirators are directed by satan and while the situation is decidedly serious it is definitely not hopeless. The solution is to end the game the international conspirators have been playing right now before one or another totalitarian-minded group impose their ideas on the rest of mankind. The story is sensational and shocking, but it is educational because it is the TRUTH. The author offers practical solutions to problems so many people consider insoluble."

Excerpts

Here are excerpts from the introduction of this book. We may publish excerpts from other chapters in the future.

By William Guy Carr

A luciferian conspiracy

If what I reveal surprises and shocks the reader, please don't develop an inferiority complex because I am frank to admit that although I have worked since 1911 trying to find out why the human race can't live in peace and enjoy the bounties and Blessing God provides for our use and benefit in such abundance, it was 1950 before I penetrated the secret that the wars and revolutions which scourge our lives and the chaotic conditions that prevail, are nothing more or less than the effects of the continuing luciferian conspiracy.

The "Key"

It started in that part of the universe we call Heaven when lucifer challenged the right of God to exercise supreme authority. The Holy Scriptures tell us how the luciferian conspiracy was transferred to this world in the Garden of Eden. Until I realized that our struggle is not with flesh and blood, but with the spiritual forces of darkness who control all those in high places on this earth (Ephesians 6:12) the pieces of evidence gathered all over this world just didn't fit together and make sense. (I am not ashamed to admit that the "Bible" provided the "Key" which enabled me to obtain an answer to the question quoted above.)

William Guy Carr

Totalitarianism

Very few people seem able to appreciate that lucifer is the brightest and most intelligent of the Heavenly Host and, because he is a pure spirit, he is indestructible. The Scriptures tell us his power is such that he caused one-third of the most intelligent of the Heavenly Host to defect from God, and join him because he claimed Gods Plan for the rule of the universe is weak and impractical because it is based on the premise that lesser beings can be taught to know, love and wish to serve Him voluntarily out of respect for His own Infinite Perfections. The luciferian ideology states might is right. It claims beings of proven superior intelligence have the right to rule those less gifted because the masses don't know what is best for them. The luciferian ideology is what we call totalitarianism today.

We have failed

The Old Testament is simply the history of how satan became prince of the world and caused our first parents to defect from God. It relates how the synagogue of satan was established on this earth, it tells how it has worked since to prevent Gods Plan for the rule of the universe being established on this earth. Christ came to earth when the conspiracy reached the stage that, to use his own words, satan controlled all those in high places. Christ exposed the synagogue of satan (Revelation 2:9; 3:9); He denounced those who belonged to it as sons of the devil (lucifer), whom He castigated as the father of lies (John 8:44) and the prince of deceit (2 Corinthians 11:14)... Christ gave us the solution to our problem when He told us we must go forth and teach the Truth, regarding this conspiracy (John 8.

31:59), to all people of all nations. He promised that if we did this, knowledge of the truth would set us free (Matthew 28:19). The luciferian conspiracy has developed until it is in its semi-final stage (Matthew 24: 15:34), simply because we have failed to put the mandate Christ gave us into effect.

Weishaupt and the Illuminati

In 1784 an "Act of God" placed the Bavarian government in possession of evidence which proved the existence of the continuing luciferian conspiracy. Adam Weishaupt, a Jesuit-trained professor of Canon Law, defected from Christianity, and embraced the luciferian ideology while teaching in Ingoldstadt University. In 1770 the money lenders (who had recently organized the House of Rothschild), retained him to revise and modernize the age-old 'protocols' designed to give the synagogue of satan ultimate world domination so they can impose the luciferian ideology upon what remains of the human race, after the final social cataclysm, by use of satanic despotism. Weishaupt completed his task May 1, 1776.

Weaken

The plan required the destruction of ALL existing governments and religions. This objective was to be reached by dividing the masses into opposing camps in ever increasing numbers on political, racial, social, economic and other issues. The opposing sides were then to be armed and an 'incident' provided which would cause them to fight and weaken themselves as they destroyed national governments and religious institutions.

The most intelligent men
In 1776, Weishaupt organized the illuminati to put the plot into execution. The word illuminati is derived from lucifer, and means 'holders of the light.' Using the lie that his objective was to bring about a one world government to enable men with proven mental ability to govern the world he recruited about two thousand followers. These included the most intelligent men in the field of arts and letters, education, the sciences, finance and industry. He then established the lodges of the grand orient to be their secret headquarters.

Colonial Wars

Because Britain and France were the two greatest powers at the end of the eighteenth Century, Weishaupt ordered the illuminati to foment the Colonial Wars to weaken the British Empire and organize the Great Revolution to weaken the French Empire. The latter he scheduled should start in 1789.

The conspiracy is discovered

A German author named Zwack put Weishaupt's revised version of the age-old conspiracy into book form and named it "Einige Original-Scripten." In 1784 a copy of this document was sent to the illuminists Weishaupt had delegated to foment the French revolution. The courier was struck dead by lightning as he rode through Ratisbon on his way from Frankfurt to Paris. The police found the subversive documents on his body and turned them over to the proper government authorities.

Lodges of the grand orient

After careful study of the plot, the Bavarian government ordered the police to raid Weishaupt's newly organized lodges of the grand orient and the homes of some of his most influential associates. Additional evidence thus obtained convinced the authorities the documents were a genuine copy of a conspiracy by which the synagogue of satan, who controlled the illuminati at the top, planned to use wars and revolutions to bring about the establishment of one kind or another of a one world government, the powers of which they intended to usurp as soon as it was established.

illuminati

In 1785, the Bavarian Government outlawed the illuminati and closed the lodges of the grand orient. In 1786, they published the details of the conspiracy. The English title is "The Original Writings of the Order and Sect of The illuminati." Copies of the conspiracy were sent to the heads of Church and state. The power of the illuminati was so great that this warning was ignored, as were the Warnings Christ had given the world.

Underground

The illuminati went underground. Weishaupt instructed his illuminists to infiltrate into the lodges of Blue Masonry and form a secret society within secret societies.

The cloak of philanthropy

Only masons who proved themselves internationalists, and those whose conduct proved they had defected from God, are initiated into the illuminati. Thus the conspirators used the cloak of philanthropy to hide their revolutionary and subversive activities. In order to infiltrate into masonic lodges in Britain illuminists invited John Robison over to Europe. He was a high degree mason in the Scottish Rite: Professor of natural philosophy at Edinburgh University; and Secretary of The Royal Society of Edinburgh. John Robison did not fall for the lie that the objective of the one worlders was to form a benevolent dictatorship. He kept his reactions to himself however and was entrusted with a copy of Weishaupt's Revised Conspiracy for study and safe keeping.

Ignore the warnings

Because the heads of Church and state in France were advised to ignore the warnings given them, the revolution broke out in 1789. In order to alert other governments to their danger, in 1798 John Robison published a book entitled "Proof of a Conspiracy to Destroy All Governments and Religions." But his warnings have been ignored, as were the others.

The creation of communism

In 1829, the illuminati held a meeting in New York which was addressed by a British illuminist named Wright. Those in attendance were informed that the illuminati intended to unite the nihilist and atheist groups with all other subversive organizations into an international organization to be known as communism. This destructive force was to be used to enable the illuminati to foment future wars and revolutions. Clinton Roosevelt (a direct ancestor of Franklin Delano Roosevelt) Horace Greeley and Charles Dana were appointed a committee to raise funds for this new venture. The fund they raised financed Karl Marx and Engels when they wrote "Das Capital" and "The communist manifesto" in Soho, England.

Pretended to repent

In 1830, Weishaupt died. He carried the deception that the illuminati was dead to his own deathbed where, to convince his spiritual advisers, he pretended to repent and rejoin the Church.

Destroy each other

According to Weishaupt's revised version of the Age-Old conspiracy, the illuminati were to organize, finance, direct and control ALL international organizations and groups by working their agentur into executive positions at the top. Thus it was that while Karl Marx was writing the communist manifesto under direction of one group of illuminists, Professor Karl Ritter of Frankfurt University was writing the antithesis under direction of another group, so that those who direct the conspiracy at the top could use the differences in these two ideologies to start dividing larger and larger numbers of the human race into opposing camps so they could be armed and then made to fight and destroy each other, together with their political and religious institutions.

Nietzscheism

The work Ritter started was continued by the German so-called philosopher Friedrich Wilhelm Nietzsche (1844-1900) who founded nietzscheism. Nietzscheism was developed into fascism and later into naziism and used to enable the agentur of the illuminati to foment World Wars One and Two. In 1834 the Italian revolutionary leader Gussepi Mazzini was selected by the illuminati to be director of their revolutionary programme throughout the world. He held this post until he died in 1872.

Three world wars

In 1840, General Albert Pike was brought under the influence of Mazzini because he became a disgruntled officer when U.S. President Jefferson Davis disbanded his auxiliary Indian troops on the grounds they had committed atrocities under the cloak of legitimate warfare. Pike accepted the idea of a one world government and ultimately became head of the luciferian priesthood. Between 1859 and 1871, he worked out the details of a military blueprint, for three world wars and three major revolutions which he considered would further the conspiracy to its final stage during the twentieth century.

Events Celebrated

FEAST OF SAINT PIO Friday 23 September

Saint Pio's Feast Day was celebrated on Friday 23 September with servants sharing snippets of his life during Community Prayer times. We learned how, at the age of five years, he already had promised Saint Francis of Assisi he would imitate his example and some day he would join his family. Even at this age he was more attracted to prayer than play. At the age of nine years, his mother discovered he was sleeping on bare floor boards with a stone for a pillow. He had been doing this for some time.

Giving everything

Another servant spoke of his obedience to God, his being deprived of saying Mass for ten years, his dying to self and giving everything that was asked of him to God, how he put God first and at great personal cost. Often accused of being harsh while he was on earth, he was simply being guided by the Holy Spirit. His frequent prayer was, "My past, O Lord, to Thy Mercy, my present to Thy Love, my future to Thy Providence."

FEAST OF THE ARCHANGELS Thursday 29 September

We celebrated this Feast Day on a beautiful Indian summer day. During the prayer times, the creation of the Archangels from Song of the Carpenter Book Two was read and we listened to Messages received from Saint Michael. Outside the prayer times, we also continued our preparations for SonLight's concert that night.

FEAST OF SAINT THÉRÈSE OF LISEUX Saturday 1 October

The Day started with prayers at twelve. A servant talked about the ladder of faith that Saint Thérèse used to find Jesus. The Day continued with prayers at 3pm. Saint Thérèse is able to bring us to Jesus through her 'Little Way' if we choose to use it.

FEAST OF SAINT FRANCIS OF ASSISI Tuesday 4 October

On the Feast Day of Saint

Francis, 4 October, work was set aside so we could celebrate a Day of Prayer and retreat with our beloved Saint.

Talks and reflections were presented and much was shared on the example of Francis' life of self denial and sacrifice for love of his Master, Jesus. It was in giving that he received, through many Teachings. He received many Gifts from Jesus, his greatest Friend, and in his deep humility and love helped rebuild the Church. Through his example of following Jesus in truth, others followed and the Franciscan Order grew and developed throughout the world.

WEEKEND WITH THE PATRICKS

The Weekend with the two Patricks began on Friday 13 October with an introduction to the Weekend followed by the Rosary in the Prayer Room. Then we moved to the Conference Room for a question and answer session with the two Patricks.

During the question and answer session, this Message came to mind:

"My children, I Love you and I thank you for gathering here to listen to the Words that I speak through My two sons. I ask of you that you make your time here count so that when you leave here you may continue to do My Work. Let it be a time of renewal for you; a time of love; a time of Peace. The world is more ready to put you down now, My children, it is more prepared with its answers for you..." Saturday 14 October 2006

People not animals

There were many interesting questions including: 'What would Jesus say to people who tell those outside abortion clinics that they are as bad as those going for abortion because they eat meat? Isn't killing an animal the same as killing a baby?' The Patricks said animals don't have souls. Man was put in charge of the animals. Jesus Died for people not animals. If we are not doing something to fight against abortion then we are just as guilty as those who do it.

Fear

Another question was about fear. The Patricks said perfect love drives out fear. The more Jesus is in us, the easier it will become. Our problem is we want to bear fruit but we don't want to die to self. We must die to sin in our lives by taking control of the desires of the body; need and not greed. The more we die to self the more we will see Jesus in people and we won't be afraid.

Saturday

On Saturday, we had the silent Walk Against Abortion as it was also the Feast of Saint Teresa of Avila. About seventy people had gathered. We have this Walk four times a year, it is a way to highlight that horrific crime. The stillness, the tranquillity, the silence, so touching, so profound, like the silent scream that no one hears. The rain was pouring down. My thoughts were for Jesus and His Mother Mary, these were their Tears, thousands of Tears they have shed for us, their children, who are murdering our own children by our own hands for our own selfish reasons. In the evening, we had our second question and answer session with the two Patricks. It was a very powerful and enriching night.

Sunday afternoon

SonLight Music Ministry began Sunday afternoon's prayers with joyful, uplifting music. Many of the songs sang were the Songs given by Jesus through the Messages of Love. They also sang some songs to the Sacred Heart as it was the Feast Day of Saint Margaret Mary, Jesus' little Dove. A servant introduced the schedule for the Day and read the Twelve Promises of the Sacred Heart of Jesus, followed by the Divine Mercy and the Holy Rosary.

Sound system broke down

The healing service was about to begin when the sound system broke down we were asked to pray for a miracle. Patrick spoke and said that he could feel the prayers in the room and they were all prayers of desperation apart from two people who believed without a doubt that Jesus would fix the sound system. And He did!! Jesus was truly Present in the Prayer Room.

Healing Service

The two Patricks explained about prayers of desperation and unbelief when we pray. Simply pray with faith, believing Jesus will answer our prayers, without that voice that says "but what if He doesn't!" Patrick led the Healing Service in quiet prayer while SonLight sang softly in the background. We were invited to close our eyes and were captivated by the awesome Presence and Healing Love of Jesus. We were told to believe and have no doubts. We must take Jesus at His Word, the Name above all names. We were asked not to pray for ourselves but to pray for another soul, maybe someone we know in need of healing.

More Houses of Prayer
After a cup of tea everyone went to the Conference Room for a question and answer session with the Patricks to conclude the Weekend. It was a lively, interesting and debating evening. They shared with us that Jesus wants more Houses of Prayer and He showed them a House of Prayer beside a lake that He wants for young people for water sports! Jesus needs hands, feet and lips but we must seriously die to the self within us. Thank You, Jesus, for all the Teachings and a wonderful, spiritual Weekend. Thank You, Jesus, I love You.

Another form of Control?

Infringement

I recently received a flyer from an organisation whose website is www.goinghandsinhealth.org/becountedasp. which read as follows:

"An Urgent Call for Action - From April 2011 we will witness the greatest infringement ever experienced on our human rights, democratic freedoms and health choices.

We will no longer have the freedom to choose natural health products or the right to decide what we wish to eat, drink or medicate to responsibly manage our own health.

Why? Thousands of beneficial 'natural' foods, herbs, products and supplements, proven safe and effective for centuries and still commonly used (to combat serious illness or to maintain health) will be banned, removed from stores and lost forever, plus the potency of those that remain will be so drastically reduced, they will be virtually ineffective. To make matters worse the majority of cultural foods and practices from non EU countries will also be banned from entering the UK. In addition centuries of ancient wisdom, spiritual beliefs and faiths will be written out of the history books and lost to future generations. This will affect absolutely everyone throughout the country (including Health Practitioners, therapists and small health businesses) resulting in an unprecedented threat to our health, lives and livelihoods as we know today.

Who is responsible? To avoid any opposition, the Government (including cross party leaders/members) secretly approved EU legislations behind closed doors to deliberately keep you and the entire UK population in the dark. The Nation Speaks petition exposes the shocking secrets they don't want you to know. We believe if half the population said "NO," the Government will have no choice but to stop this process. Therefore it is extremely important for all of us to come together on a massive scale to spread this petition far and wide."

Total Control

Reading this article reminded me of the times to come that Jesus has Warned us about in the Messages, namely, not being able to worship Our Lord openly, the state of the crisis in our Church which seems to be trying to adapt to the ways of man (truth not told, diluted to please mankind), now the total control of what we consume. Is this yet another form of control?

Yea or nay

The Messages that the two Patricks have received from Jesus have been ongoing for some years now. There are a lot of doubters but I ask those of you who do not believe, access the Messages on the website and look at the world today. The evil that is threatening to overwhelm us into submission towards the road that leads to damnation, its all there in the Messages given from 1990s. The time is coming when we will have to stand up and be counted. Is it yea or nay for Jesus? Only He will get us out of this.

Suffering

It is all around us

In wondering and praying about what Jesus might like us to share with you in His Newsletter, the word 'suffering' kept coming to mind. We don't have to go far to find suffering of all kinds. It is all around us. We see it in the hospital when we make the rounds as Extraordinary Ministers of the Eucharist, as we work in the soup kitchen, visiting the nursing homes, in wheelchair users, tragedies, loss of limbs, in the millions who are out of work, in our own families, the experience of our personal pain and sufferings, and so much more.

The value in suffering

I read an article recently written by Father John Hardon, S.J. on Redemptive Suffering. He let us know what Pope John Paul II tells us about the meaning of suffering. I was going to put into my own words what I learned in Father Hardon's article about the value in suffering but decided I could not do justice to the beauty of the Pope's eloquence on this subject.

A word to the sick

So here is what Pope John Paul told a gathering of sick people outside the Monastery of Jasna Gora, the famous Marian Shrine in Poland:

"My pilgrimage to Poland cannot go without a word to the sick, who are so close to my heart. I know, my dear friends, how in your letters to me you often write that you are offering for my intentions the heavy cross of your illness and suffering, that you are offering it for my mission as Pope. May the Lord reward you.

Every time I recite the morning, midday, and evening Angelus, I feel, dear fellow-countrymen, your special closeness to me. I unite myself spiritually with all of you. In a particular way I renew the spiritual unity that binds me to every person who is suffering, to everyone who is sick, to everyone confined to a hospital bed, to every invalid tied to a wheelchair, to every person who in one way or another is meeting his cross.

The person who carries it
Dear brothers and sisters, every contact with you, no matter where it has taken place in the past or takes place today, has been a source of deep spiritual emotion for me. I have always felt how insufficient were the words that I could speak to you and with which I could express my human compassion. I have the same impression today also, I feel the same way always. But there remains the one dimension, the one reality in which human suffering is essentially transformed. This dimension, this reality, is the cross of Christ. On His cross the Son of God accomplished the redemption of the world. It is through this mystery that every cross placed on someone's shoulders acquires a dignity that is humanly inconceivable and becomes a sign of salvation for the person who carries it and also for others. "In my flesh I complete what is lacking in Christ's affliction" (Colossians 1:24), wrote Saint Paul.

Make use of the cross

Therefore, uniting myself with all of you who are suffering throughout the land of Poland, in your homes, in the hospitals, the clinics, the dispensaries, the sanatoria - wherever you may be - I beg you to make use of the cross that has become part of each one of you for salvation. I pray for you to have light and spiritual strength in your suffering, that you may not lose courage but may discover for yourselves the meaning of suffering and may be able to relieve others by prayer and sacrifice. And do not forget me and the whole of the Church, and the cause of the Gospel and peace that I am serving by Christ's will. You who are weak and humanly incapable, be a source of strength for your brother and father who is at your side in prayer and heart."

Profit from the cross

These are the beautiful words of a father who understands. They are also the words of Christ's Vicar teaching the suffering faithful to profit from the cross they bear and unite their trials with Jesus. The Pope is emphasizing the value of pain, when joined with prayer, in moving the Heart of God. We must know then that suffering is already a prayer, when humbly accepted from the Hands of God and offered to God - as Christ's prayer on the Cross - in patient resignation to His Divine Will.

Thank you for this gift

For me, personally, suffering takes on a whole new meaning and great tolerance when I look at my Beloved Crucified Jesus nailed to the Cross and say, "Not my will, Jesus, but Thine be done. I am Yours, Jesus, and I thank You for this Gift of suffering for You and with You. Do with me as You Will."

The Plight of Others

The Genocide of those Exposed to Radiation

The Spartan race

In the days of old in ancient Greece, the Spartans were renowned for their military prowess. Military fitness began from even before birth with pregnant woman being encouraged to strengthen the child. Shortly after birth, a mother would bathe her child in wine to see whether the child was strong. If the child survived, it was brought before the Gerousia by the child's father. The Gerousia then decided whether it was to be reared or not. If they considered it "puny and deformed," the baby was thrown into a chasm on Mount Taygetos. All to ensure that the Spartan race stayed strong and mighty.

A super Arian race

During World War II, Hitler and followers of his Nazi party attempted to wipe out the population of Jews and gypsies as well as many, many more groups that they looked down upon. The aim was a super Arian race without "blemish" or "imperfection." Rightly, the world looks back in dismay and disgust at what went on and how many people suffered and died during this period.

Genocide

Similar has taken place in the Yugoslav states, Rwanda,

Cambodia, Darfur... the list is unfortunately very long. When you try to clean a particular ethnic background it is called Genocide. But what if it is applied to disease? When it is done because of disease, it is called 'Medicine.'

Disease

Diseases used to be something that attacked the body in the form of bacteria and virus and were referred to as infectious diseases. Over time non-infectious diseases have come to the fore such as cancer and heart disease. We have more recently moved into the area of genetic diseases where the body's building blocks have a defect which can cause a range of "deformities" in a person.

Kazakhstan

I was recently directed to a documentary on an area of Kazakhstan, which, during the Cold War period, the Soviet Union used for testing nuclear and atomic weapons. This area, known as the Semipalatinsk Polygon, an area outside the city of Semipalatinsk, saw four hundred and fifty six explosions take place over a forty year period. During this time the people of the area were intentionally and unintentionally exposed to this radiation and the scientists used this situation to see how people would be affected to exposure in case of a nuclear attack. A terrible thing to do to the people of your land, in an attempt to get an upper hand on the enemy!

A special card

Its legacy has been an increased amount of illnesses, such as cancer, due to the exposure to high levels of radioactive materials and the people of the area have been given a special card to alert medical workers that they are from this affected area.

A new indignity

Nearly thirty years on since the breakup of the Soviet Union and Kazakhstan, the people of Semipalatinsk are now undergoing a new indignity. One of the main effects on the locals to the high levels of radiation left after these tests is a slightly higher increase in the case of abnormalities of babies in the womb.

Deformed

The documentary follows the work of a doctor in the area who believes something needs to be done about the babies that are born with a disability or die in the womb or at birth because they are so deformed they cannot survive. He brings us to a children's home where some babies are being looked after who are missing a limb, have learning difficulties or have a disability of one kind or another. He also brings us to his clinic where he has kept "specimen" of some extremely deformed babies and Siamese twins that never survived to full term.

Intimidation

His belief is that women who are in what he sees as a 'high risk bracket,' due to the area they live in and the radiation exposure there, should be prevented from having babies that will be deformed. His clinic workers are trained to pressurise this group of women who could be affected into having a range of tests so that it can be decided, or the option given, to abort the baby as in Kazakhstan you can have an abortion for medical reason before twenty two weeks. The pressure borders on outright intimidation.

Nuclear testing

The documentary also follows a lady who is three months or so into her pregnancy. She has what would be classed as a major facial deformity as well as living in the area affected by radiation and her deformities are put down as being caused by the exposure in the womb to radiation. Her mother also has these deformities but the authorities "in the know" seem to miss the fact that the mother was born before the nuclear testing began.

A faulty gene

The woman travels to her local maternity clinic for a check up and is completely talked down to because she has waited till three to four months into her pregnancy to go and it leaves them with eight weeks or so to get any tests done before the twenty two week "window of opportunity" closes. She is passed on to the doctor's clinic and he and his staff basically try and bully the woman into having tests she doesn't want or need just because the doctor feels the woman could be passing on a faulty gene.

Enforced sterilization

The doctor's train of thought is that we all should have tests done to produce a genetic passport which would point out if the person had any "abnormal" genes. If a person was considered to be in a higher risk bracket, the doctor would like it to be made law for such people to be prevented from even becoming pregnant i.e. enforced sterilization. He uses the area he lives in to "prove" his theory as there is this slightly higher risk due to the radiation. The risk goes from two percent in a normal population to four percent in this area.

Abortion

The doctor wants an enforced sterilisation program just because of a two percent increase of babies born with a deformity in this area! Until the time that he might get his wishes, he works away trying to convince women that for the sake of their baby, due to this two percent risk, that they should have all the tests of the day and consider an abortion. Consider an abortion for the sake of the baby!!!!

How far would it go?

The doctor's beliefs of this enforced sterilization program is a step further than the current one child policy we see in China which is for economic reasons. If he got away with this, how far would it go?? Currently, he sees severe physical deformities, Down's Syndrome, cerebral palsy and the like to fall into the area that should be looked at and prevent from being "passed" on. But how far could that be taken and what would or could be considered a deformity and fall into the bracket of something that needs to be removed from the "gene pool" at all costs? Epilepsy? Autism? Diabetes? Sounds like something that should be shouted from the roof tops and prevented as it is going down a similar route that Hitler has been demonized for.

Here in the UK

Yet, have we already started something similar here in the UK? Already women are encouraged to abort their babies if there are any "abnormal" signs from the scans and the test. Any woman over thirty five is expected to have an amniocentesis as they are considered to be higher risk for having a child with Down's Syndrome and they should be given the option to abort their child.

A more subtle way

Are we, too, trying to remove the "defective" genes from the gene pool but just going about it in a more subtle way?

"Defective" children

The worry is if there is one such doctor out in Kazakhstan with these ideas, how many more are out there, especially as the health service is being used to remove possibly disabled children from the equation as it is? Will it come to a stage that if you have a child with any disability that you will be forced to undergo sterilization so as to ensure that no more "defective" children are produced? It is quite scary what people would like to do if they had their way and how close we are to those thoughts being a possibility. This is another area where we need to keep the prayers going to provide the fuel in the fight against abortion and the rights of the unborn.

A perfectly healthy baby

By the way, on a positive note, the pregnant woman in the documentary went on to have a perfectly healthy baby. Praise God!!!

Perfect communion in love preserves the Church from all forms of particularism, ethnic exclusivism or racial prejudice, and from any nationalistic arrogance. This communion must elevate and sublimate every purely natural legitimate sentiment of the human heart.

IV. THEY PLANTED THE CHURCH OF GOD

12. But the characteristic of the approach adopted by the Apostles of the Slavs Cyril and Methodius which I especially wish to emphasize is the peaceful way in which they built up the Church, guided as they were by their vision of the Church as one, holy and universal.

Even though Slav Christians, more than others, tend to think of the holy Brothers as "Slavs at heart", the latter nevertheless remain men of Hellenic culture and Byzantine training. In other words, men who fully belonged to the civil and ecclesiastical tradition of the Christian East.

Already in their time certain differences between Constantinople and Rome had begun to appear as pretexts for disunity, even though the deplorable split between the two parts of the same Christian world was still in the distant future. The evangelizers and teachers of the Slavs set out for Greater Moravia imbued with all the wealth of tradition and religious experience which marked Eastern Christianity and which was particularly evident in theological teaching and in the celebration of the Sacred Liturgy.

The sacred rites in all the Churches within the borders of the Byzantine Empire had long been celebrated in Greek. However; the traditions of many national Churches of the East, such as the Georgian and Syriac, which used the language of the people in their liturgies, were well known to the advanced cultural milieu of Constantinople. They were especially well known to Constantine the Philosopher, as a result of his studies and of his many contacts with Christians belonging to those Churches, both in the capital and in the course of his journeys.

Both the Brothers were aware of the antiquity and legitimacy of these traditions, and were therefore not afraid to use the Slavonic language in the liturgy and to make it into an effective instrument for bringing the divine truths to those who spoke it. This they did without any spirit of superiority or domination, but out of love of justice and with a clear apostolic zeal for peoples then developing.

Western Christianity, after the migrations of the new peoples, had amalgamated the newly arrived ethnic groups with the Latin-speaking population already living there, and had extended to all, in order to unite them, the Latin language, liturgy and culture which had been transmitted by the Church of Rome. The uniformity thus achieved gave relatively young and rapidly expanding societies a sense of strength and compactness, which contributed to a closer unity among them and a more forceful affirmation in Europe. It is understandable that in such a situation differences sometimes came to be regarded as a threat to a still incomplete unity. One can also understand how strongly the temptation was felt to eliminate such differences, even by using forms of coercion.

11. In order to translate the truths of the Gospel into a new language, they had to make an effort to gain a good grasp of the interior world of those to whom they intended to proclaim the word of God in images and concepts that would sound familiar to them. They realized that an essential condition of the success of their missionary activity was to transpose correctly Biblical notions and Greek theological concepts into a very different context of thought and historical experience. It was a question of a new method of catechesis. To defend its legitimacy and prove its value, Saint Methodius, at first together with his brother and then alone, did not hesitate to answer with docility the invitations to come to Rome, invitations received first from Pope Nicholas I in 867 and then from Pope John VIII in 879. Both Popes wished to compare the doctrine being taught by the Brothers in Greater Moravia with that which the holy Apostles Peter and Paul had passed down, together with the glorious trophy of their holy relics, to the Church's chief episcopal See.

Previously, Constantine and his fellow workers had been engaged in creating a new alphabet, so that the truths to be proclaimed and explained could be written in Old Slavonic and would thus be fully comprehended and grasped by their hearers. The effort to learn the language and to understand the mentality of the new peoples to whom they wished to bring the faith was truly worthy of the missionary spirit. Exemplary too was their determination to assimilate and identify themselves with all the needs and expectations of the Slav peoples. Their generous decision to identify themselves with those peoples' life and traditions, once having purified and enlightened them by Revelation, make Cyril and Methodius true models for all the missionaries who in every period have accepted Saint Paul's invitation to become all things to all people in order to redeem all. And in particular for the missionaries who, from ancient times until the present day, from Europe to Asia and today in every continent, have labored to translate the Bible and the texts of the liturgy into the living languages of the various peoples, so as to bring them the one word of God, thus made accessible in each civilization's own forms of expression.

The Holy Scriptures

Colossians 1:9-11

9 Therefore we also, from the day that we heard it, cease not to pray for you, and to beg that you may be filled with the knowledge of His will,...

This, for me, is a beautiful line. It calls me immediately to come into a state of humility, into acknowledgement of the real Truth of Gods Omnipotence and my true state of insignificance. My will is flawed and useless. His Will for me and for everyone is perfect.

His Will is that love would reign supreme in our lives. He Wills love to be the source and beginning point of all action and all thought and that love be the fruit brought to birth of these.

...in all wisdom and spiritual understanding:

To have Gods Wisdom is to see everything as God sees it. To live in Gods Wisdom is to know that the only valuable way to live is in love. To love one another as Jesus Loves us.

To understand that to not love another is to not love oneself, because we are all part of the Body of Christ.

To live in Gods Wisdom is therefore to live in charity and patience of another's faults as we should be charitable and patient towards our own selves.

10 That you may walk worthy of God, in all things pleasing:...

When I read these Words, I feel the Divine call to my soul to love God through the way I live my life, in everything I do. And the most perfect way possible for me to love God and to please Him is to love Him within my brothers and sisters.

To love God is to submit our will to His in obedience, because without obedience we cannot please Him.

...being fruitful in every good work,

Jesus asks each of us for the use of our hands, our feet and our lips so that He might minister to His children through us. If I am in Him and He is in me then His Works are done through me and so my life is fruitful in good works.

...and increasing in the knowledge of God:

I can only know God when I do the things He does. If I do not do the things He does then I do not know Him at all.

11 Strengthened with all might, according to the power of His glory, Love has the power to create the earth, the sky, the sea, the entire universe. Love has the power to overthrow all evil as Jesus bore witness to when He conquered death and sin on the Cross of His Love for us. Nothing can stand against Love. All evil flees from it. And Love is the strength we bear when we unite ourselves to Christ and His Will.

...in all patience and longsuffering with joy, Our Father in Heaven endures all our deeds and misdeeds with patience. All our insults, all our indifference towards Him, He endures with Love. When we live in His Will we become like Him. We are filled with His patient and abiding Love for all. Nothing can trouble or disturb us or take away our peace in any way because we have become complete and immovable in Him. And we have achieved all this through knowing and living in His Divine Will.

Wonderful promotion

Dear sir in Christ,
A warm greeting from Saint Gregory the Great Provincial Major Seminary to you. Thank you for your wonderful promotion and preaching about abortion. In view of this that I, Ohemeng George Kwadwo, a seminarian of the above mentioned school would like to subscribe some of your scripts, books and pictures about abortion. I would be pleased if you could also send me some of your rosary and other important doctrine which are beneficial to me and be distributed among my fellow seminarians. I want more copies in order that my fellow seminarians may get copies. I would also be happy if you could send me some of the JESUS KING OF LOVE pictures in large print to us also. I hope my letter would meet your paternal care and consideration.

Thank you. Yours faithfully,
Ohemeng George Kwadwo

An Abyss of Love and Pain

Dear sirs,
I have read the book "The Sacred Heart - an Abyss of Love and Pain." It has changed my life and has made me acutely aware of all those around me, those I know and those I do not. I have a deep hunger to spread Jesus' Message to the whole world. I want to show them that Jesus Loves them and that we MUST repent now to save our souls. I now know Gods deep, deep Pain and anxiety for His children's souls. I somehow feel a deep sense of anxiety and urgency too, to save as many souls as I can (although I can never compare to the Suffering of our Lord Jesus for us all). I humbly ask if you could send me the electronic version of the full Message as well as some hard copies so that I can spread this Message to all those I come in contact with. Please also include me on your mailing lists for the Newsletters.

Regards,
Cindy

DON'T YOU LOOK THE OTHER WAY

Don't you look the other way,
Face your brother's pain.
Don't you look the other way,
Reach out and take the strain.
Jesus came to show the way,
Don't sit in misery,
Get up prepared to say,
Healed in Jesus' Name.

Look around you will see
The people on the street.
If you keep on walking
Jesus you won't meet.

Don't you look the other way,
Face your brother's pain.
Don't you look the other way,
Reach out and touch the lame.

Now that you have found the Lord,
Found His Way of Love,
Don't you keep Him to yourself
You gotta make others free.
Just you keep on reaching out,
Jesus in your sight.
There's a Kingdom right here,
For the others you must fight.

Sing you always of the Word
From a simple heart.
Preach the Gospel of the Lord,
Save souls and make them free.
The bad old devil's on your back
Trying to push you back.
Don't you let him put you down
Now that Jesus is your Lord.

Look to the Lord,
Look to the Lord,
Look to the Lord,
Salvation comes.

Jesus is the Lord,
Jesus is the Lord,
Jesus is the Lord,
Salvation comes.
